Recreation center is renamed after retiree

by DONNA KIMBRO

The Granite City Township Hall was filled to capacity Saturday afternoon and evening by area residents who attended a buffet reception given to honor Harold Brown, director of Parks and Recreation for the Granite City Park District who will retire officially on April 30.

More than 500 guests were received throughout the social event including civic leaders, friends and relatives in the Quad-City area and Milton Worthen former president of the Park District. Mr. Worthen celebrated his 80th birthday on Jan. 1, and noted in this speech he had served 52 years, two months and two days with the park district.

Randall Robertson, a Granite City attorney, served as master of ceremonies for the evening. One of the highlights of the evening was the announcement by George Sykes, president of the Park District, that the Namecki Recreation Center will be renamed the Harold E. Brown Recreation Center, in honor of the retiree.

Communications were read from Mrs. Sandra MacWilliams, daughter of the Mr. and Mrs. Brown who could not attend as she is expecting her first child soon, and from Ken Gray, a member of the Cardinal Football team, Dal Morris, former player and coach of the Cardinal baseball team and Melvin Price.

Throughout the program many plaques and awards were presented to Brown in appreciation of the many years he served the area with special programs instituted for the youth as well as adults in the sports field, and the beautification of the parks.

Robert Stevens, city clerk, presented the key to the city to Brown, and Ron Dillard, a member of the Retirement Dinner Committee, gave him a check in the amount of $2,000 as a retirement gift from area organizations and residents. Senator Sam Vadalabene had a senate resolution made into a plaque as a unique gift to include among the memorable presentations.

Mrs. Pauline Schank, president of the Gardenaires Garden Club, presented a patch, quilt, scroll, created by Mrs. John Farrell a club member, which read "In appreciation for the many years of encouragement and the many courtesies you have extended to us, a one hundred dollar donation in your honor has been made to the Garden Club of Illinois Scholarship Fund at the University of Illinois in the field of Horticulture."

Another plaque, designed by the Retirement Dinner Committee, exhibited a newspaper clipping with picture of Brown when he was named to his present position and another clipping announcing his retirement, was presented by Ron Dillard.

The Rev. Samuel Boda, pastor of St. John Lutheran Church, gave the opening prayer followed by guest speakers who reminisced past programs and events and gave tribute to the guest of honor. Leonard Davis, who was the basketball coach at Granite City High School, when Brown was a student there, gave highlights of that era, with remarks made by other speakers, Sam Whitmer, a fellow softball player, Ed Cook, a member of the American Legion baseball team, Ray Hoffman representing the Illinois Amateur Softball Association.

Also Don Brunelle, who was one of the first employees on the recreation staff under Brown's supervision, Rosemarie Lindner, a former employee, Gary Granddier, former assistant to Brown, Bob Ems, director of Canton, Ill. Park District, Walter Milton and Henry Gabriel, former park board presidents, Dave Krollman, representing the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and Dewey Melton, a member of the Granite City Board of Education.

Hileman faces new charges

Charles Hileman, 55, of 2330 Lynch Ave., former assistant fire chief of Granite City, was ordered Thursday to spend six years in prison for violating the provisions of his probation on a previous theft plea. Then, on Friday, a Madison County grand jury indicted him on 56 new charges, including 54 charges of felony theft as well as solicitation to commit and conspiracy to commit prostitution.

Hileman's probation had been ordered revoked March 22 by Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson on allegations that Hileman had sold approximately $5,000 to $11,000 worth of sterling silver place settings and gold to an exchange in Clayton, Mo., without keeping proper records, in violation of the terms of his probation.

At Thursday's sentencing hearing before Judge Ferguson, Hileman's wife of 33 years, Jean, testified under cross examination that she was the author of a note to Hileman stating, in part, "I'm tired of your lying to me. You keep getting involved with hookahs. I'm hanging by a thread. I can't take much more."

The note, confiscated by police, was read at the hearing by Assistant State's Attorney Keith Jensen and Mrs. Hileman admitted writing it. During her testimony, however, before the existence of the note was revealed, she said that Hileman had been a good husband and a good father to their three children.

Hileman had been sentenced May 15, 1981, to serve 30 months of probation and 15 months of weekends in jail after pleading guilty to two counts of felony theft and one count each of burglary, and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was charged with encouraging high school students to steal an air conditioning unit and other items from a building trades home the students were building as part of their school work.

Terms of the probation barred him from dealing in coins and precious metals. Hileman is a well-known coin collector and former dealer. He is no longer associated, in any way, with the Plaza Laundromat, where he formerly had a coin business, owners there say.

Owners of Midwest Money Co. in Clayton testified March 22 that they had purchased thousands of dollars worth of silver and gold from Hileman since May, 1981. Judge Ferguson then ordered his probation revoked and ordered sentencing for last Thursday.

Hileman's problems were further complicated Friday when a grand jury investigation into the seizure Jan. 15 of an estimated $1 million worth of jewelry, furs, stereos,

Shriners flee hotel fire

"It was a little bit scary I'll tell you," Granite City Alderman Warren Decatur said Friday after he and other area residents had fled from a Louisville, Ky. hotel fire in the wee hours of the morning.

Decatur and other members of the Ainal Temple Shrine had been at the Louisville Inn for a directors' association meeting when fire broke out on the building's top floor. He said that, after the fire alarm sounded, they heard a loud explosion and looked out the window to see billowing smoke overhead.

Decatur had been sharing a hotel room with fellow Shriner Orville Hommer, Ainal Temple director, who also is from Granite City.

Other local residents attending the convention and staying at the Louisville Inn were Donald Adams, C. Wayne Bantz, Irvin Slaty Jr., Thomas Burns, Thomas Hundley and Fred Bolliger. The four-alarm fire destroyed the top floor of the 12-story hotel, but no serious injuries were reported. "The fire alarm in the building went off...we heard it but it just wasn't very loud and we weren't sure of what it was. Then we heard a loud explosion and realized there was a fire."

"We knocked on all the doors on the floor," said Decatur with his roommate Hommer. "Everyone made a very orderly exit."

Decatur said the departure left time only to slip a pair of pants and jacket on his side of the room.

Once out of the building, hotel guests were told to wait in groups.

"When we looked at the upper floor, we thought it would all be gone," Decatur said.

He said there was no sprinkler systems in the rooms, but each room had been equipped with a fire alarm and smoke detector.

Later, guests were sheltered in the Media Mix-Downtown Athletic Club, where sandwiches and refreshments were available for the approximately 250 displaced hotel guests. "Everyone down there was really gracious," recalls Decatur.

About 1:30 a.m., Louisville Inn guests staying in rooms on the first through seventh floors were allowed to return to their rooms for the rest of the night. Others were taken to other hotels. Decatur's room was located on the sixth floor.

Although the Cup and Stirrup Restaurant on the top floor had been destroyed, most of the hotel rooms only incurred water and smoke damage.

Decatur said the elevators were not working during the remainder of his stay and telephone lines were out of order.

Friday morning, guests were served complimentary breakfast. Decatur said it appeared the hotel will be closed for some time and the source of the fire is under investigation.

"It is something none of us will ever be able to forget," he said.

The hotel opened in 1964 and cost $5.5 million to build.

Utility rate hike protest expands

"It's really picking up," Mayor Paul Schuler said Friday about a utility rate protest that also has "caught fire" in neighboring Madison and Venice. His next step may be to request a local Illinois Commerce Commission hearing on the proposed rate hikes.

Schuler initiated the petition campaign two weeks ago to combat proposed 19.9 percent electrical and 9.7 percent natural gas rate increases requested by Illinois Power.

The petitions will be presented April 16 in Springfield at an Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) hearing on the increase.

Those who enter the city clerk's office and are invited to sign the petitions "are all the way for it," according to Gail Valle, clerk in the City Clerk Robert Stevens' office. "We have them sign to just sign it," said Mrs. Valle.

The petition drive came at an opportunity time, catching residents stopping at the clerk's office to buy their wheel tax stickers (city stickers). Forty petition sheets already have been filled with signatures the clerk's office. More sheets have been turned in directly to the mayor's office, officials said.

Mrs. Valle noted that some of the signers are questioning what can be accomplished by the drive, but are, (Continued on Page 4)

City to act on bids

By GEORGEANN MCGEE

of the Press-Record

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald Velzer is "hoping for a decision Tuesday night" on six police car bids given to altermen two weeks ago.

"We need to get the cars," Velzer said. "In the past, we have made numerous repair funding requests for the city's 1980 fleet."

He said the city faces 1982 production line delays this month.

The question remains how the city will be able to fund the purchases. City Comptroller Joseph Miklovic is exploring an alternate means of financing — Incentive Tax Credits (ITC) — that could "soften the blow" for the city's general fund.

Six different bids from five bidders were received for six new 1982 "police package" vehicles. The bids ranged from $40,000 to $60,000.

Wednesday, Velzer, City Treasurer Nick Petrillo, Miklovic and the aldermanic police committee inspected a Chevrolet Impala, Jack Mathews Chevrolet, 1511 Niedringhaus Ave., was the lowest local bidder at $49,400.

Velzer is not recommending a specific model or bid, but said he would "like to stay in town" with the purchases.

He explained his preference for a local dealer due to the manhours that could be lost taking the cars to out-of-town dealers for repairs or adjustments during the warranty period.

The two bids lower than Mathews were both made by Dave Croft Motors Inc., Collinsville, at $46,025 and $46,889 for their Dodge Diplomats, with varying features.

Other bids are: Granite City Chrysler, Plymouth Grand Prix, $53,785; B. E. Holt, Inc., Ford LTD, $54,192; and Lipe Motors, Inc., Checker Marathon, $59,500.

A $95,000 "surplus" from the 19th Street Overpass construction fund that had originally been eyed as a way to buy cars has been stymied by questions raised by the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp.

The company contributed $1.7 million in bonds for the overpass construction and feels a portion of the overpass surplus might be intended for payment on the bonds.

Even if the funds are "fired," the city faces a deficit at the end of this year, regardless whether all the overpass funds go to meet regular city expenses.

Miklovic has been meeting with a local bank official to discuss the ITC plan, standing the best chance for acceptance.

The plan would mean a direct tax credit "bonus" to a bank or business making a capital equipment purchase for its city. The bank could then lease the purchase — in this instance police cars — back to the city at a favorable rate. How favorable the rate depends on the amount of the allowable ITC, which directly lessens the total tax bill for a profit-making business and how much of that credit the bank is willing to pass on to the city.

A business "earns" an ITC based on a percentage of the purchase cost for taking the "economic risk" of the purchase. Miklovic said that under the new 1981 Economic Recovery Act, a more favorable percentage table of tax credits was given.

An ITC is separate from normal depreciation write offs that can be taken as tax deductions, which the bank or purchasing agent also could use to lessen its tax burden.

Since the city is not a "tax-paying body," the ITC plan would be of no direct use, but, coupled with an organization that pays substantial taxes, the trade-off could be beneficial to both.

Miklovic hopes the city will receive back — in the form of a lower lease rate — most of the tax credits the bank would receive for the police car purchases.

If used, the city would not have to pay for the cars in one lump sum and could end up paying quite a bit less than taking out a loan for the purchases.

Miklovic hopes to lease six police cars this year and then purchase or lease two new cars every year to continually renew the police fleet.

The city comptroller expects to find out before tomorrow night's council meeting whether or not the bank will participate in the ITC plan with the city.

EMT'S GIFT ARRIVES. A $27,500 Ford ambulance, a gift to Granite City from the Uniform EMT (Emergency Medical Technician) Relief and Welfare Fund, is delivered Friday afternoon at the Madison Avenue main fire station.

The EMTs purchased the vehicle because of the city's mounting operating expenses and lack of funds to replace the present fleet of ailing ambulances.

June Branding, Margaret Lee named to county arts council

Harold E. Briggs, regional superintendent of schools in Madison County, has announced the names of the board of directors members for the Madison County Arts Council. Positions on the board number 14 with each person representing a community, an arts agency, a related institution or a special group.

The representative for Granite City is June Branding and Margaret Lee is representing the Madison-Venice area.

Mrs. Branding is a former music teacher and currently chairman of the Fine Arts Committee for the Granite City PTA Council. "I look forward to working on the arts," she said.

Margaret Lee is public relations director for First National Bank of Madison. As chairman of the Madison-Venice Arts Council, she has shown a sincere interest in the future of the arts in her community, Briggs said. "The Arts Council provides us with the opportunity to gather our resources from around the county. I am pleased to be a part of the Board," Mrs. Lee said.

"There are some fine arts programs already in operation throughout Madison County," said Pat Goehs, representative for state and federal arts agencies on the board of directors. "The Madison County Arts Council has the potential to assist in maintaining and supporting current arts programs as well as developing others. The Council may provide a model for the rest of the state," she added.

JUNE BRANDING

MARGARET LEE

Pat Goehs is the past president of the Illinois Alliance for Arts Education and helped develop the Illinois State Board of Education's plan for the Arts in General Education. The Madison County Arts Council is a partnership between the communities and the educational institutions in Madison County. "Together we can keep the arts in our schools and communities," said David Huntley, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's representative on the board of directors. "Alone, we compete for the same funds."

"Our primary goal is to maintain and extend the arts in our communities," added John Novotny, representative for school administrators on the board, "but our first priority is with the schools. During these times of cutbacks, all too often the arts are the first to go."

Before applying for funding of any kind, the Arts Council must prove local support. A Spring Arts Festival is the council's first step into fund raising. The event will be held Saturday, April 17, at 5:30 p.m. in the University Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The evening will provide dinner and a showcase of the talent in the Madison County public and non-public schools. Tickets are tax-deductible and may be purchased for $25 per person until April 5 from any board member or from the office of the regional superintendent. Board members from other communities are: Suzanne Blackhurst, Edwardsville; Judy Loyet, Highland; Sam Milford, Roma-Wood River; Max Norris, Bethalto; Rod Pitts, East Alton; Richard Propp, Alton-Godfrey; Betty Schrieber, Collinsville; Edith Whyte, Worden-Livingston, and Edith Widous, Troy-Marine-St. Jacob.

The Madison County Arts Council is designed to provide services in the arts which can be shared by local schools and communities. "I am very proud that these fine people have volunteered to serve on the board of directors," said Briggs.

Their efforts represent a strong commitment to the arts and an assurance that the arts will have a viable future in the Madison County schools."

Further information about the Madison County Arts Council may be obtained by calling the office of the regional superintendent of schools at 1-492-4530.

GC depot bomb squad removes school bomb

The U.S. Army bomb disposal unit from Granite City was called to Collinsville High School last week when a bomb threat was received and an authentic-looking device was found on the second floor.

The academic building at the Greenwood campus was evacuated for an hour and 15 minutes until it was determined that the device was harmless. The device, a red box wrapped with electrical tape, was found to contain two red reflectors, three springs and several transistor parts. A white wire was coming out of the box. Principal Ron Ganschietz said the bomb threat was received by phone just as the second period classes were being dismissed.

A high school secretary received the call, she told police that the caller sounded like a white man in his early 20s with a deep voice.

The caller reportedly identified the location of the device. Ganschietz said school monitors were sent to a second floor locker area on the northeast side of the building and found the device about seven feet off the floor on top of a furnace control box.

Ganschietz said the box "looked authentic enough" to concern him and prompted him to have the building evacuated. Police were called.

The two men from the bomb squad ordered everyone to move at least 300 feet from the area of the device. Ganschietz said the students were sent to the gym.

The bomb squad took down the box, X-rayed it and then opened it.

The incident is being investigated. One student reportedly told a teacher he had heard another student say last Monday, that a bomb threat was to be made last Monday or Tuesday.

Another student reportedly told Ganschietz that several male students were seen on the second floor Monday with the box.

Dalton suggests ways county can cut spending

By JIM SCHLUETER
A staggered work week and reduced hours for Madison County employees is one suggestion county board member Fred Dalton has for dealing with the financial troubles facing the county.

The suggestion was one in a list of ideas Dalton has produced in response to board chairman Nelson Hagner's letter to the county board.

Hagner has given each county committee six weeks to meet with department heads under their jurisdiction to come up with ways of cutting expenses. Dalton, a member of the county's finance committee, has said that his fellow board members must act now to deal with the financial crunch. County auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields has told the board that it must cut 1983 budget expenditures by $1.5 million to avoid operating at a deficit.

"Six weeks can go like 30 minutes," Dalton said. "We have a lot of decisions to make. A lot of studying to do and a short deadline to get the answers."

Dalton's list was discussed at Thursday's finance committee meeting, and he noted that his ideas were not proposals, but topics for discussion. He said his idea of staggering working hours would have to be cleared with all unions involved.

Along with a staggered work week, Dalton's other suggestions include creating a centralized purchasing department in the county, which could purchase all supplies used by every county department and office. Dalton said this could eliminate line items in most departmental budgets.

Also on the list was a suggestion to stop subsidizing the county nursing home.

In March, the county board voted to put proposals on the November ballot calling for special taxes for both the nursing and sheltered care homes.

Expenditures for the homes make up close to $1.7 million of the $12 million general fund budget in 1982.

Dalton has stated before that he sees nothing sacred about the county operating a nursing home.

He also has made clear his opinions on using federal revenue sharing money on capital improvements and not on operating expenses.

Dalton has said that the county could be in trouble if it uses revenue sharing money for operating expenses because the funds could be cut by the federal government. He also called himself a "big believer" in capital improvements.

"I want to think I've been with the county board all these years and the only thing I've been involved with operating expenses," Dalton said.

"I want to leave something to future generations, a monument, a building, anything. And if we don't improve and maintain our buildings, we'll have a helluva government, but no place to put it."

3 burglaries at apartments

Burglaries were reported Thursday at three apartments in the 3200 block of Maryville Road. Reporting a burglary at 9:25 p.m. Thursday was Mary Cann, 3215 Maryville Road, who said all rooms in her apartment had been ransacked and a video game, valued at $134, and Pac Man, soccer and baseball cartridges, worth $90, were taken. Entry was gained through a window. Burglars also entered via a window at the William Sloss apartment, 3223 Maryville, where medication, $32 cash, and jewelry were immediately determined missing. A complete list was being compiled at 10:05 p.m. Thursday.

Darren LeGrand, who also lives in the apartment complex at 3215 Maryville Road, reported at 11:40 p.m. Thursday that intruders ransacked the bedroom, rummaged in kitchen cabinets and stole $80 cash and a digital clock, worth $30.

Career Advisory meeting April 13

The Career Advisory Council of the Granite City School District Off-Campus Education Program will hold its quarterly meeting at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, April 13, at Ravennell's Restaurant. It was announced today.

Among the items on the business agenda are nomination of new members and progress reports on the annual "Student-Employers' appreciation banquet. The Nurse Aide program, visitation by the Illinois Board of Public Health and an update on registration also will be reviewed.

District Nine Vocational Director Thomas Holloway will present a program of slides and report on vocational evaluations, according to Don Shaffner, Off-Campus Education coordinator.

Council members unable to attend the Dutch treat dinner are asked to call 877-1512 or 451-2885, station 68.

Charge driver with possession

While on patrol in the parking area at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl at 8 p.m. Thursday, an officer saw three men inside a parked vehicle who began acting "nervously" when the squad car approached.

When the driver opened a window to talk with the officer, a strong odor of cannabis allegedly was emitted. It was alleged the driver, Daniel J. Myatt, 18, of 25 Westgate Drive, Pontoon Beach, had a clear plastic bag containing 14 marijuana cigarettes in his possession. Myatt was booked on a state charge of unlawful possession of cannabis. He was released at 10:40 p.m. upon posting a $105 cash bond. Two men in the vehicle with Myatt were released without being charged.

Offer program for plant personnel

The Office of Continuing Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a program for custodial and plant operations personnel, April 20. Co-sponsored by Plant Operations, the one-day workshop is scheduled from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the conference area of the University Center.

Registration is $30 and includes all course materials and lunch. Deadline for registration is April 13. The program is designed to help custodial and plant operations personnel expand their knowledge and skills in these areas. Participants will be introduced to the basic principles and theories of leadership, techniques for determining their own leadership styles and how to organize work-flow, using a valuable personnel resources.

They also will receive information on how to extend floor life and reduce costs through proper maintenance, as well as new techniques for cleaning today's surfaces.

Dance funds to help send youths to World's Fair

Children at the Children's Home in Alton will have the chance to write school essays this fall on "My Vacation at the World's Fair" if a dance and drive sponsored by the Catholic Newman Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Friday, April 16, is successful. In offering reasons for sending young people to Knoxville, the Rev. Kenneth J. Stewart points out, "For children of broken homes, for children whose spare time has been devoted to delinquency because of absence of family, summertime is the most lonely time of the year."

"Not many of us will have the opportunity to go to the World's Fair this year, but we can be present in a better way: through the sauced eyes, smiling faces and joy-filled hearts of a handful of underprivileged children." The kickoff of the "Sponsor a Child to the World's Fair" Project will be a benefit dance at the American Legion Hall in Edwardsville on April 16 from 9 p.m. to 11 a.m. Entertainment will be provided by Walnut Park. Tickets are $3, with additional donation tickets available at a minimum of $1. For further information, interested persons may call 1-800-3346.

"This will be a personal gift," Father Stewart said, "since each donation ticket will have the name of a child who will be going to the fair printed on it. Those who give will know whom they are helping."

Leland Beedle

Leland S. Beedle Sr., 78, of 2088 Wayne Ave., died at 7:18 a.m. Saturday, April 3, 1982, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was a patient since March 31.

Mr. Beedle retired in 1962 from Granite City Steel, where he was employed 30 years as a timekeeper. He was the father of three sons, all graduates of the U.S. Naval Academy. One son, Ralph Beedle, now residing in Honolulu, Hawaii, served as commander of the U.S. Navy's first nuclear submarine.

Mr. Beedle was of the Protestant faith. He was born in St. Clair County and resided in Granite City for the past 35 years.

His wife, Mrs. Beulah Mae Beedle, died in 1977.

Among the survivors, in addition to Ralph, are sons, Leland Beedle Jr., of San Diego, Calif., and Robert Beedle of Brunswick, Ohio; a brother, Oring Beedle of O'Fallon, Ill.; three sisters, Mrs. Edna Carme of Lebanon, Ill., Mrs. William (Eleanor) Willard of Indianapolis, Ind., and Miss Alberta Beedle of O'Fallon, and four grandchildren.

Visitation begins at 4 p.m. Monday at Davis Funeral Home, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard, where services will take place at 10 a.m. Tuesday, April 6, with the Rev. Henry Crisp officiating. Burial will be in Bethel Cemetery, Collinsville.

Patrick Carson

Patrick W. Carson, 91, of Brumley, Mo., formerly of Granite City, died at his home at 11 p.m. Thursday, March 25, 1982. He had been ill for several years.

He was born in Richland, Mo., and moved to his present address after retiring from Union Shield and Refining Co. 20 years ago. He had worked at the former local plant for 25 years.

Mr. Carson was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, while living in the Quad-Cities.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Mary (Unfried) Carson; two daughters, Mrs. Elenora Smoot of Brumley, Mo., and Mrs. Rita Bradford, Granite City; 15 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

A daughter, Pearl Heible, and two grandchildren preceded him in death. Funeral services were held at the Stevinson-Mossman Funeral Home in Iberia, Mo., Monday, March 29. Burial was in Hawkins Cemetery, Brumley, Mo.

Dr. Steve Geroff

Dr. Steve Geroff, 61, of 3322 Princeton Drive, a lifetime resident of the Quad-Cities and local dentist, died at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, April 1, 1982, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he had been taken by ambulance from his home.

He was found lying on the bathroom floor of his home by his wife, Mrs. Helen M. (Worthen) Geroff, who called for an ambulance. Dr. Geroff had been ill for two and a half years.

Dr. Geroff was born in Madison, attended the Madison schools and graduated from St. Louis University School of Dentistry. He opened his offices in Granite City in 1972 after serving with the U.S. Army Medical Corps from 1945 until 1946.

Dr. Geroff attended Southern Illinois University at Carbondale from 1939 to 1939. He practiced dentistry in Madison from 1940 to 1972, then moved his offices to the local location.

The local dentist was formerly head of the Madison Branch for Madison Civil Defense, and a member of the Madison Planning Commission.

He also was the recipient of Lion of the Year Award in Madison, was a member of the American Dental Association for 34 years, the Delta Epsilon Society, and was listed in Who's Who in Midwest 1974 to 1975.

He served 12 years as a member of the Madison Board of Education and was a member of the Madison Lions Club, Madison Rotary Club and Venice-Madison American Legion Post.

Dr. Geroff was a member of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church.

Other survivors include one daughter, Miss Mary Helen Geroff of Granite City; two sons, Robert K. Geroff, of Casey, Ill., and his mother, Mrs. Helen Geroff, both of Granite City.

He was preceded in death by a brother, Dr. Val K. Geroff and his father, Dr. Val K. Geroff.

Visitation was at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave. A funeral mass was read at 9:30 a.m. today, April 5, at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church with burial in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

James Goodrich

James E. Goodrich, 51, of 3116 Willow Ave., a lifelong resident of the Quad-City area, died at 9:15 p.m. Sunday, April 4, 1982, at Missouri Baptist Hospital in St. Louis, where he had been a patient for seven weeks.

He was born in Venice and was employed as a laboratory technician at the Quad-Cities plant of Phillips Petroleum Co. for 23 years.

Mr. Goodrich was a member of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church of the Southern Illinois Softball and Umpire Association. He served as umpire for softball games in the Madison and Granite City area for many years.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Dorothy (Dimitroff) Goodrich; one daughter, Miss Kathy L. Goodrich, and a son, Todd A. Goodrich, both at home, and two brothers, Thomas and James Goodrich, both of Granite City.

Visitation will be after 2 p.m. Tuesday at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave. The Rev. Jerry Shen will read a funeral mass at 10 a.m. Wednesday, April 7, at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church, 1900 St. Clair Ave., with burial in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

The Rosary will be recited at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Catherine Jones

Mrs. Catherine Jones, 97, of Granite City, Ill. for 10 years, died at 6:40 p.m. Friday, April 3, 1982, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she had been a patient for three days.

She was born in Sumner, Ill., and moved to this area in 1923.

Mrs. Jones was of the Pentecostal faith.

Her husband, Raymond E. Jones, died June 20, 1963.

Survivors include a brother, William Heath of Granite City, and a sister, Mrs. Minnie Sharrar of Mount Carmel, Ill.

Visitation will be after 4 p.m. today at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., where the Rev. Henry Crisp will conduct funeral services at 10 a.m. Tuesday, April 6. Burial will be in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Marjorie Logan

Mrs. Marjorie V. (Arthur) Logan, 81, of 3164 Myrtle Ave., Ill. for several years, died at 9:45 a.m. Thursday, April 1, 1982, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she had been a patient for four days.

A native of Holla, Mo., Mrs. Logan resided in this area for 60 years. She was a member of Trinity United Methodist Church and was a former member of the American Legion Auxiliary in Granite City.

Her husband, Harry G. Logan, died in 1964.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. John S. (Marjorie) Mika and Mrs. George T. (Mattie) Soltoff; one son, Harry A. Logan, all of Granite City; six grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren and nieces and nephews.

The Rev. Dale Denham conducted funeral services at 10 a.m. Saturday, April 3, at Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary Chapel, 2205 Pontoon Road, with burial in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Requests for memorials be made to Hospice of Madison County or Trinity Methodist Church.

Howard Painter

Howard C. Painter, 74, of 2927 Buxton Ave., a retired salesman for the Monumental Insurance Co., died at 10:30 p.m. Saturday, April 3, 1982, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

He had been ill for three years and hospitalized for four days. Mr. Painter resided in the Quad-Cities for 68 years.

Mr. Painter was a member of the First Baptist Church, Masonic Lodge 877, the Golden Society and was a trustee, Sunday School teacher and treasurer of the church.

He worked for the insurance agency in Granite City for 40 years prior to retiring in 1972.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Lucille (Martin) Painter; four daughters, Mrs. Vincent (Mary Lou) Wondra, Las Vegas, Nev., Mrs. Frances Roberts, Mrs. Doris Bernick and Mrs. Jeffery (Linda) Painter, all of Granite City; a brother, Hal Painter of Madison; 15 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

Visitation begins at 4 p.m. today at Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road, where Masonic services will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The Rev. Jack Cicciello will conduct funeral services at 11 a.m. Wednesday, April 7, and Delmar Avenue with burial in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Ora Paschedag

Mrs. Ora (Goad) Paschedag, 83, of 4149 Division St., Pontoon Beach, was pronounced dead by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner at her home at 10:38 a.m. Saturday, April 3, 1982. She had been in ill health for the past three months and was under the care of a physician.

Mrs. Paschedag resided in the Granite City area for 65 years. She was born in Clay County, Ill. She was a member of the Pontoon Beach Church of Christ.

Her husband, William, died in 1970 and she also was preceded in death by a son, William Paschedag, in 1975.

Among the survivors are four daughters, Mrs. John (Frances) Dolby, Mrs. Gerald (Marion) Deland and Mrs. Owen (Betty) Davis, all of Granite City, and Mrs. William (Margaret) Detherage of Fairview Heights; three sons, Jack Paschedag of Granite City, and Don Paschedag of Edwardsville; one brother, Edwin Goad of Neodesha, Kan.; 10 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Friends are calling at the present time at Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road, where services will be held at 1 p.m. Tuesday, April 6, with the Rev. Charles Sackett officiating. Burial will be in St. John Cemetery, 2201 Nameoki Road.

Steve Piechocinski

Steven J. Piechocinski, 28, of 32108 Kilnray Drive, was found with signs of life at his home at 3:15 p.m. Thursday, April 1, 1982.

He was pronounced dead by William Sternberg and Edward Morton, Madison County deputy coroners, who were called to the residence by police officers. A related story appears elsewhere in today's paper.

Mr. Piechocinski was born in St. Louis, where he had resided before returning to Granite City a few months ago.

Among the survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor W. (Rose) Piechocinski of Granite City; a brother, Victor W. Piechocinski Jr. of Granite City; a sister, Mrs. Keith (Shirley) Blund of Granite City, and a grandmother, Mrs. Julia Jankowski of St. Louis.

Funerals will be held at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, April 6, at Lahey-Sedlack Funeral Home, 501 Madison Ave., Madison, where he will be at Calvary Catholic Church, 10th Street and Alton Avenue, Madison, with the Rev. Frank Kordek officiating. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery at 2 p.m. Tuesday. Visitation will begin at 2 p.m. today. The Rosary will be recited at 7:30 tonight.

Todor Racheff

Todor "Tony" Racheff, 86, formerly of Madison, died at 5 p.m. Saturday, April 3, 1982, at the Bellevue Nursing Home in Belleville, where he had resided the past two years.

Prior to retiring 21 years ago, Mr. Racheff, a barber, owned and operated the former Tony's Barber Shop at 12th Street and Madison Avenue. He was a member of Barbers Local 483 of Granite City.

Mr. Racheff was born in Gardist, Bulgaria. He had lived in Madison for 70 years and was a member of St. Mary Catholic Church and the St. Mary's Booster Club.

He also was a charter member of the Madison Lions Club.

Among the survivors are his wife, Mrs. Caroline (Mainbridge) Racheff; one daughter, Mrs. Ray (Marie) Mushak of East St. Louis; a son, Steve Racheff of Pompano Beach, Fla.; a sister, Mrs. Rada Sanchez of Bulgaria; seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Services will be held from Lahey-Sedlack Funeral Home, 501 Madison Ave., Madison, at 10:45 a.m. Tuesday, April 6, at St. Mary Catholic Church, 10th Street and Alton Avenue, for 11 a.m. mass, with the Rev. Frank Kordek officiating. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township. Visitation begins at 3 p.m. Monday and the Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today.

Charles Wilson

Charles E. Wilson, 63, of Olney, Ill., formerly of Granite City, died at 1 p.m. Friday, April 2, 1982, in a hospital at Cadillac, Mich., where he was taken suddenly while on a trip.

Born in Granite City, Mr. Wilson had resided here for more than 40 years. He had lived in Olney for only a short period of time.

He was self-employed as an oil developer and salvage consultant. Mr. Wilson, a signed degree Mason, was a member of Masonic Lodge 877, AF&AM, Ainal Shrine Temple, Royal Order of Eaters 86, Southern Illinois Chapter 102, Elks Lodge 808 and Signal Hill Elks Lodge 926 of Olney.

He was of the Methodist faith. Among the survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Russell (Cheryl) Selph of and the power company, the utilities never get what they ask for," he said. "Our strategy is to get as many as possible." Earley said Friday.

In IPFR's "motion to intervene," filed Tuesday, the group claims IP's rate structure discriminates against small users. The motion also criticizes the plan for the Clinton Nuclear Power Plant, now under construction about 50 miles from Springfield.

Bennett Webb, IPFR's treasurer, said the group has stated in its legal motion that stockholders who benefit from the company's investments and have those costs passed on to IP's customers.

IP contends that the requests for the increases were filed only after the company implemented an intensive cost-cutting program.

The company stated that the hikes reflect the need to maintain financial integrity, cover increasing costs of operation, and to support its construction program (including Clinton).

indicated. Others from as far away as the state of Mississippi have identified items stolen from their homes, according to East Alton police.

Hileman was arrested by Granite City police near his home while the execution of the search warrant was underway and items from the home were being loaded into trucks. He was held in the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Persons whose items were found in Hileman's home, including a Granite City attorney, sources indicated, were expected to testify before the grand jury. Since activities of grand juries are, by law, secret, officials would not say who testified or the exact nature of the allegations considered.

The items were shown at the East Alton Police Department to victims of recent burglaries and some of the items were identified as belonging to Granite City residents, officials indicated.

Man found hanging is dead

Steven J. Piechocinski, 28, of 32108 Kilnray Drive, was found hanging by a white cotton cord in his home at 3:15 p.m. Thursday, according to police reports.

A friend of Mr. Piechocinski contacted his mother when he could not be reached by telephone. When the mother arrived, she found the front door standing ajar. She went to the door and called the police and an ambulance crew.

When they arrived, Mr. Piechocinski was without signs of life and was pronounced dead at the scene at 3:15 p.m.

William Sternberg and Ed Morton, Madison County deputy coroners. A note was found, according to police reports.

The father, Victor Piechocinski, told the police he had last seen his son on Wednesday at about 7 p.m., and he seemed to be in good spirits, but was worried, as he had lost his job.

Details of his life and funeral arrangements appear in today's obituary.

Burglary at GC car wash

Burglars forced the handle of a car wash garage door to an equipment area to gain access to the Granite City Car Wash, 3633 Nameoki Road, it was reported by Philip Ross at 8:35 a.m. Friday.

An itemized list was being prepared, but immediately reported as missing, were three tool boxes, containing various tools and parts for the car wash equipment.

Illinois Power Co. was given a rate increase of $104 million in July and $16.9 million increase of gas rates in 1979.

Illinois Power contends that the rate hike request was filed only after the company implemented an intensive cost-cutting program that the company claims reduced the need for revenue during the next two years by $50

Questions are being raised by Illinois Attorney General Tyrone Fahner about the high costs needed to complete the Clinton Nuclear Power Plant about 50 miles from Springfield, which is behind construction schedule and Illinois Power officials have said that the typical residential users could receive an increase of $4.81 to $13.34 per month for electric costs, if the increase is granted.

However, for those who have been receiving combined gas and electric bills in the $10 vicinity the last few months, the increase could come closer to $2 in similar months, local residents pointed out.

CELESTINE HEARING AID AUDIOLOGIST

TO THE RESIDENTS OF MADISON AND THE QUAD-CITIES

In past years, when asked, I have sent people to the funeral home at 7th & Madison, in Madison, in their time of sorrow and need because I know the funeral home there would help them in any way possible. Now the name of the funeral home may have changed, but the dignity and understanding is still there. To my friends, Memorial Chapel Funeral Home at 7th & Madison Ave., in Madison, is the only funeral home that I would recommend.

Jeffrey Dilday rejoins Navy

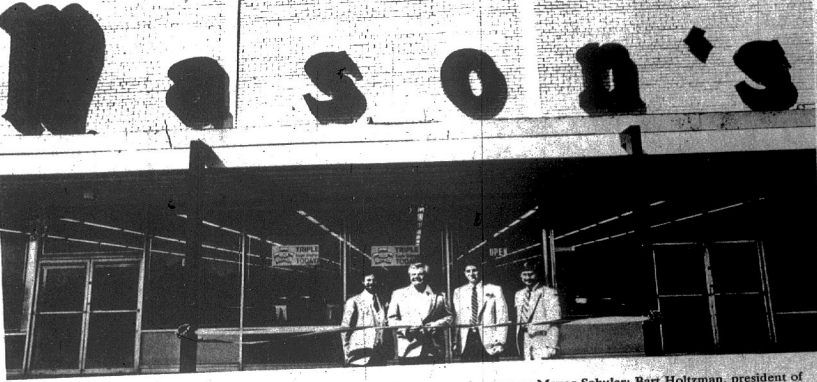

Jeffrey Dilday of Granite City has re-enlisted in the U.S. Navy for two years and will report to Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill., on June 14.

Dilday, 24, is the husband of the former Vicki Mercer and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Dilday, 2815 Harding Blvd.

His previous two-year service in the Navy ended in 1976. Following the six-week re-orientation program at Great Lakes, he is expected to be assigned to sea duty.

Dilday attended Granite City High School South and was employed for four years by A. O. Smith Corp., prior to the frame plant closing here.

RANSACK DWELLING
Mrs. Shirley Rapoff, 2820 Grand Ave., reported at 6 p.m. Thursday that an intruder had entered the dwelling by breaking glass panes in a porch door and the main entry door. The house was ransacked and jewelry and cash were stolen. An inventory was being taken to determine what other items are missing.

general manager; Mayor Schuler; Bart Holtzman, president of the store chain, and Ralph Komlos, store manager. This is the third Mason's store to be opened in the St. Louis area and the first in Illinois.

'Pride' is to be emphasis at MHS

By MICK STRANGE
The Press-Record
Developing and maintaining school pride at Madison High School was of major concern to Board Member Ed Dohnal who brought the subject up at the Thursday night board meeting. "I have been approached by both students and parents who want to do more to increase the pride in MHS."

He said that if the custodians are too busy to police the trash, possibly some of the students will help pick up the trash. "Not all of it comes from the school, as I know the winds carry a lot...I have looked at this since January and it is getting worse. Has anybody any suggestions?" Dohnal asked.

It was pointed out to Dohnal by Eldon Rhoads, maintenance superintendent, that the ditch row outside the fence is in the county and he will contact Frank Mebel, road commissioner of Nameoki Township, and see if the township will help clean up the part that is the township's responsibility.

The valedictorian is normally the student who ranks highest academically in the class and delivers an address at graduation on behalf of the graduating class.

High school graduation is tentatively scheduled for Friday, June 4, according to Polchelt.

A letter of commendation was approved and sent to Robert Barnhart, principal of Louis Baer School, and Sue Borstein, social worker, for their "excellent and professional" handling of a child abuse case recently.

A discussion was held on the use of a Kodak microfilm system in conjunction with the Madison County recorder of deeds' office. The cost of the system will be $5,015 for a reader and printer, and will save the school system many dollars through the years, in addition to being more efficient and taking up very little space, the board was told. Further study will be done before a decision is made.

It also was suggested that the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts might help clean it up on the annual trash pick up project this month.

Dohnal noted that this would be all "well and good," but that would only be a temporary solution and something must be done to enlist everyone's help—students, faculty, administration and staff—in keeping the area clear of trash.

After the trash discussion, Dohnal asked, "What happened to the school song at the high school? I never hear it sung and I never hear the band play the school fight song."

"What about recognition day at the high school? Why can't we honor kids for things other than athletics? What ever happened to the naming of a salutation in the graduation ceremonies at the high school?" Dohnal questioned.

"Let's get something positive going now. The people are beginning to get interested," Dohnal said.

Superintendent of Schools John Palchelt said he will discuss this with the high school administration and report back to the board.

The salutation is the student ranking second in the graduating class and delivers a welcoming address at graduation on behalf of the graduating class.

Routine contracts were awarded, to low bidders, on first aid supplies, magazines and other minor supplies. Permission was given the enlarging of the school's girl's basketball program. The superintendent is to meet with the respective coaches and high school administrators and review all aspects of enlarging the season.

The topic is to be brought up at the next board meeting with a report from each coach and the administration.

A motion to this effect was made by Mrs. Billie Bosworth, seconded by Dohnal.

Awarding of contracts on transportation systems for the next two years was tabled until the next meeting in order for the administration to check a detail in regard to first-year costs. Only one bid was received and that was from the present supplier, R. W. Harrison & Sons.

Cafeteria Director Caroline Sander to send out bids for supplies of milk, bread, snack items and towels, plus some miscellaneous items.

Indictment in cocaine death

The husband of a Granite City woman who died after allegedly receiving overdoses of cocaine has been charged with involuntary manslaughter for allegedly injecting the drug into his wife and then for failing to seek prompt medical aid for her.

James R. Parmley, 28, of 2500 Delmar Ave., was indicted by a Madison County grand jury Friday two counts of involuntary manslaughter and one count of possessing cocaine. His bond is set at $100,000 and warrants for his arrest were to be issued.

He allegedly injected cocaine into his wife, Sandra Parmley, 26, twice during a party at their home Jan. 25, after a woman guest had already given her one injection. Sources indicated that the woman who gave

Mrs. Parmley the first injection has been granted immunity in return for her testimony.

Sources indicate that the witness said she had given Mrs. Parmley one injection of cocaine and that Parmley gave his wife two more injections between 9 p.m. and 1 a.m.

Parmley then is charged with allowing Mrs. Parmley to "suffer from an overdose of drugs for a period of several hours and failed to give or summon help until her physical condition was so deteriorated that she became comatose."

When Parmley returned home from work for lunch Jan. 27, he was unable to wake his wife, but still did not seek help, it was alleged.

Their 5-year-old son called for an ambulance about 4 p.m. that Tuesday and Mrs. Parmley was rushed to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she remained in a coma until she died Feb. 19. Death was attributed to heart and respiratory arrest due to a drug overdose.

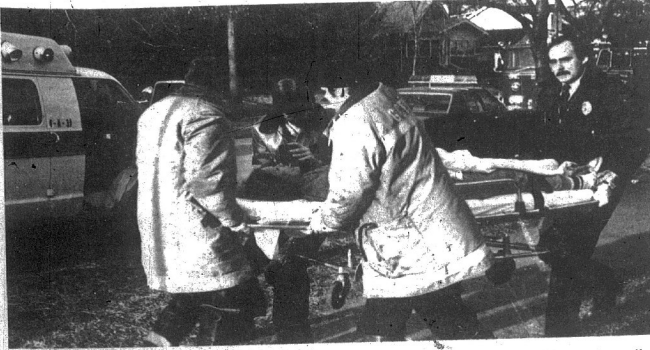

News of the death was kept from official sources and a private and unannounced funeral for Mrs. Parmley was held. It was not until the inquest into the cause of death in mid-March that official news of the death was made available.

The cocaine possession charge against Parmley alleges that he had more than 30 grams of the drug in his possession, which would have a street value of approximately $3,500.

Storm sweeps area on tornado anniversary

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

The Press-Record

The Quad-City area apparently escaped major damage in Friday night's storm, which produced winds gusting to close to 60 mph throughout many areas in the bi-state region, but only a scattering of minor mischief was reported here.

Telephone and power lines were downed in some areas, a large plate glass window was shattered by strong winds and roof shingles were torn from several homes a period of several hours. The construction project in Venice.

On the first anniversary of last year's severe storm, April 3, 1981, the local area again was subjected to high winds and torrential rains for a period of several hours. The National Weather Service's Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City reported at least 17 tornadoes touched down across Missouri late Friday and Saturday across 13 states from Texas to Ohio, with at least 28 people killed and hundreds injured, authorities said.

Police reported telephone lines were down at Pontoon and Maryville roads at 1:15 a.m. Saturday and noted an officer had moved the lines to one side of the roadway. Power line poles were downed at 21st and Benton streets and at St. Clair and Myrtle avenues, and an Illinois Power transformer apparently "blew up" at Edgewood and Wilson avenues, it was reported by police on Friday night. Little interruption of electrical service was noted throughout the Quad-City area, however.

A large front window at Hill Studio, 1335 Nineteenth St., was smashed by gusting winds, it was reported at 3:55 a.m. Saturday.

In Madison, the wind tore a large aluminum awning from a porch at 1813 Third St., causing more than $300 damage, and the apartment complex under construction on Blaisell Street, Venice, lost roofing material.

A large section of roofing from Emerson School was blown off during the night, it was reported by a custodian at 8:25 a.m. Saturday, and at least one home on St. Thomas Road lost many roof shingles, it was learned.

Two marinas on the Mississippi River, north of Alton, had docking facilities destroyed and boats were torn from their moorings and set adrift in the river.

Also in Alton, a fire that broke out about 8 a.m.

GC man faces three charges

Called to the home of Mrs. Dorothy Batey, 2444 Edison Ave., at 11:35 a.m. Friday, officers arrested her former husband, Thomas W. Batey, 26, of the 1800 block of State Street, who allegedly was trying to kick in the rear door. Mrs. Batey said the man had refused to leave her alone and had been "bothering her" for several days.

Batey was charged with criminal trespass to property and theft of $300. The latter charge concerned removal of a vehicle belonging to Mrs. Batey, officers said. He also was charged with failure to appear in court on a traffic charge in an active warrant issued by the Alton Police Department on Dec. 15, 1981.

Batey pleaded innocent in court appearances at 3:20 p.m. Friday. Bond was set at $2,000, a mittimus was issued and he was transferred to Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

Cooper seeks waiver of sentence

John Cooper, former chief of field operations for the Madison County Sheriff's Department, should not have to serve his 15-year federal prison term because he is suffering from extreme depression and suicidal tendencies, U.S. District Judge J. Waldo Ackerman was told during a hearing on a plea to reduce Cooper's sentence Friday in Springfield.

Testimony was presented by Cooper's wife, Patricia, and a psychiatrist during that hearing. Mrs. Cooper testified that her husband's behavior has changed drastically since his conviction on federal racketeering charges more than three years ago and about 10 months ago, she found a rope tied into a noose hidden under the bed.

U.S. Attorney Gerald Fines, who prosecuted Cooper, of Granite City, former Madison County Sheriff John Maeras of Madison and professional fund-raiser Leland Stoller of Nashville, Tenn., on the federal charges, contended that Cooper should serve his full prison term because others less involved in the alleged racketeering scheme have already served their prison terms.

The prosecution of Maeras, Cooper and Stoller followed the convictions of former Madison policemen Ronald Graywacz, Edward Gocian and Richard Krieshak on federal charges of accepting kickbacks and favors from prostitutes and of being involved in a RICO (Racketeer Influenced Corrupt Organization) revolving around the sheriff's department. The three have completed their prison terms and are free on parole.

Fines contended at Friday's hearing that Cooper was "seriously involved in all phases" of the RICO scheme and it would be unfair for him not to serve his prison term when others with lesser involvements have served theirs.

Judge Ackerman took the motion under advisement. Health was the reason that former sheriff Maeras was excused from serving his 15-year prison term. Last month, Judge Ackerman decided that he should not serve the term because medical reports from two physicians indicated that Maeras is dying from cancer and could not receive adequate medical attention in prison.

Stoller, who was convicted of diverting funds from the now-defunct Madison County Deputy Sheriff's Association to Maeras and others, also has filed a motion for a reduction of sentence which is scheduled to be heard by Judge Ackerman April 16.

Cooper, Maeras and Stoller were convicted Feb. 25, 1979, during a trial in federal court in Alton and have been appealing their convictions ever since. Their appeals ran out Nov. 30, 1981, when the U.S. Supreme Court refused to set aside the convictions and sentences. They have been free on bond since being first arraigned in 1978.

Cooper and Maeras were arraigned on charges of accepting kickbacks from prostitutes, towing companies and from Stoller as well as participating in a RICO scheme. Mrs. Cooper testified that her husband has been unemployed for at least the last year and a half and only worked briefly for a disposal company and the Operating Engineers union hall in St. Louis.

She said his personality has changed from sociable to one who refuses to see anyone, go any place and who remains in his room frequently.

She said that after she found the noose under the bed, Cooper agreed to seek psychiatric help from the Veterans Administration hospital in St. Louis.

Arrest six youths opposite South High

REPORTS WOMAN HURT

Minor injuries were suffered by Gertrude E. Young, 1008 Calhoun St., Venice, when her vehicle and a truck, operated by Kevin L. Pryor, 2808 Madison Ave., collided at 1:40 p.m. Saturday at Nameoki Road and St. Clair Avenue, according to a police report.

Eight youths were taken into custody before school, at 7:40 a.m. Friday, outside Mr. B's, 3000 Madison Ave., across from Granite City High School South, when officers went to that location in response to an anonymous telephone call alleging cannabis was being exchanged from an auto there. An officer talked with the driver of one vehicle, David Michael Walker, 18, of 2416 Delta Ave., and alleged seeing a marijuana cigarette in a pouch in the car door. Walker allegedly admitted the "joint" belonged to him and said the two girls and a youth, all juveniles, who were also in the auto, "had nothing to do with it."

Meanwhile, other officers had approached a second car parked near the building, which was occupied by four youths. In that vehicle, it was alleged a champagne bottle, half-filled with beer, was found.

At police headquarters, the three juveniles in the Walker auto were released to their parents without charges. Walker was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis.

Joseph A. Grimes, 17, of 2721 Iowa St., Mark Allan McCord, 17, of 3251 Westchester Drive, and two 16-year-old youths, all from the second vehicle, were charged with being minors in possession of alcohol.

Walker, Grimes, McCord and the two 16-year-old youths were released after each paid a $52 cash bond.

While officers were at the scene of the arrests, Paul J. Webb, 17, of 1541 Garfield Ave., allegedly refused to leave the immediate area, although requested to do so several times by the investigating officials. He also was taken into custody, charged with disorderly conduct and was released on payment of a $55 cash bond.

All of the youths involved are believed to be students.

Bob Cryder: a pro football player investing in the future

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

The image of the professional football player is changing. In the past, many football players were thought of by the public as oversized gorillas, needing almost constant supervision of their coaches. Nowadays, generally speaking, professional football players are more sophisticated. They're paid better than their predecessors, their making more public appearances—things are better all around.

The football player of the past, if he were good enough, would rise to popularity, and after their playing days were over, they'd disappear into obscurity to tend to a lifetime of aches and pains. Most were forgotten until death, when their names were resurrected for a final tribute.

Today, this also has changed. Now it's a player's career is over, there are more avenues open to the retired athletes. Many are seeking second careers in acting, while others receive high salaries from endorsements.

Joe Namath is one former professional football player who made a successful transition from the playing field to the stage. "Broadway Joe" has done everything from movies, modeling, panty hose and publishing, butted popcorn makers to selling abbe.

The list, including such greats as Jim Brown, Merlin Olsen, O.J. Simpson, Fran Tarkenton and Roger Staubach, is almost endless.

Others less well known are investing their earnings in the business world. One such professional football player is Bob Cryder, number 75, of the New England Patriots. Although Cryder has not retired, he has already begun planning for the future.

For six months of the year, from July to the end of January, Cryder is that awesome 6-foot-five, 290 pound, almost immovable fixture, positioned at the right side of the New England Patriots' offensive line.

For the other half of the year, Cryder is a businessman. His dealings include owning Maryland's Pig Pantry in Belkville, an arcade in O'Fallon and his most recent endeavor includes the co-ownership of "Casual Wear Ltd.," a clothing store located at 1321 19th Street in Granite City.

He'll be at the clothing store at least two days a week, overseeing its operation, until July when he returns to training camp.

So, why doesn't he just enjoy the off-season on some beach like some of the players? "I'm gonna get old," Cryder said. "My football days won't last forever, and neither will the money. You've got to think of the future."

So, why a clothing shop, and why in Granite City? "The shop that was here did fairly well. It's a good location, and I think we can make a go of it," Cryder said.

So what are his long range goals? "I want to be successful in a second career," he said. "I think I'd like to own a brass rail bar."

Cryder admitted that if he were not a professional football player, things would be quite different.

"Football's been my life. It's been pretty good to "...someday I'm gonna get old. My football days won't last forever, and neither will the money. You've got to think of the future."

Bob Cryder

New England Patriots offensive guard me," he said. "My dad still thinks I'm just a country boy. I guess so him I always will be."

He began playing football in O'Fallon early. He played for the Panthers until he graduated in 1974. After graduation he attended the University of Alabama where he majored in recreation and minored in business. He considers playing for the legendary "Bear" Bryant the highlight of his collegiate years.

He was drafted by the Patriots in 1978, the 19th player in the first round. He's been with the Pats ever since.

"I think you'll see a changed team in the Patriots next year," he said. "Our new coach is a lot like the 'Bear'—a disciplinarian."

The Patriots finished last in the National Football League rankings during the 1981-82 season, winning only two of 16 games. A new coach, Ron Meyer, of Southern Methodist University in Texas will coach Cryder and the Patriots next year.

According to Cryder next year might be a short season.

Having just returned from the National Football League Players' Association meeting last week in Albuquerque, N.M., Cryder said a player's strike was inevitable unless the owners "made some concessions."

"Football's a big business. The owners just signed a $2 billion contract with the network for the coming season. We think the players should get a bigger piece of the pie," he said.

"The average salary of a professional football player is approximately $73,000. That might sound like a lot, but the average player in the NFL plays only about four to five years. When you stop to consider it, that's considerably less than, say a baseball player who may play for 15 or 20 years."

Cryder said the players will strike after the third game of the regular season if the club owners do not renegotiate the new contract. He anticipates the most stumbling block in negotiations to be the standardization of player's salaries.

According to him, the players want a minimum salary of $70,000 for each first year rookie and a maximum of $400,000 for each player of 10 or more years.

"I don't think that's too much to ask considering the risk of injury a player faces when on the field," Cryder said.

Steeler hurlers alive with conference victories

GRANITE CITY — North's baseball team is only 24 this season, but the Steelers are winning the games they have to win.

The Steelers defeated Edwardsville 6-5 in a Gateway East Conference game Thursday. Both of the Steelers' victories have been in the conference. North is in first place in the GEC with an undefeated record.

"We have to put the win together now, we can't just play for the conference," North coach Bob Stegmeyer said. "We have to strive to get to 500 and beyond."

North scored five runs in the third inning which proved to be the victory. Daren DePew opened the inning with a triple and scored on Steve Tritschuh's single. Kevin Hayes reached on an error and Carl Luehmann walked to lead the bases. Scott Corey drove in Tritschuh and Hayes with a double.

Later in the inning with the bases loaded, David Shick's double scored Luehmann and Corey and the Steelers led 6-3.

Edwardsville scored a run in the fifth threatened to take the lead back in the seventh. The Tigers had already scored one run and had the tying run on second and the lead run on third with two out. Steeler reliever Jimmy Burton took over for starter Ray Takmaljan at that point and struck out clean-up hitter Pat Braun for the save.

Takmaljan, the winning pitcher, went 6-2-3 innings, struck out six, and gave up eight hits and a walk.

"One of the big things is that we've had our best pitching in the conference games," Stegmeyer said. DePew hit a single, stole second, and scored on Tritschuh's triple for North's first inning run.

"We got the key base hits when we needed them," Stegmeyer said. "We've been hitting the ball hard, but we've had some good plays made against us. Our hitting with men on base wasn't good."

"I'm not concerned about the players who've been hitting hard and getting out but the ones who haven't been hitting hard but getting the cheap hits. It's a matter of a time when the hard hit balls start dropping in," Stegmeyer said.

Critschuh, Corey and Shick all had two RBIs for the Steelers. Tritschuh was 2-4 at the plate.

North hosts Hillsboro Tuesday and travels to Wood River Wednesday. Both games start at 4 p.m. The postponed Friday has been rescheduled for May 20 at North.

Lady Steelers finish fourth, set new records

EDWARDSVILLE — Despite setting two new school records, the Granite City North girls' track team still placed fourth in a quadrangular meet Thursday afternoon at the St. Edwardsville track.

Winning the meet was East St. Louis Lincoln with 110 points. Edwardsville finished a distant second with 58 points, with Belleville East totaling 42 points and North 19.

Still, Harry Lang, North head coach, felt the girls competed well against tough competition. "Lincoln is just awesome," Lang said. "For a quadrangular meet, that's extra tough competition. When you go against people like that, placing is pretty good in itself."

"I'm very pleased this early in the season we're setting school records. At least it shows we're on the right track," Lang said.

Christi Lauderdale, senior, set a new school record in the 3200 meter run. Her time of 13:01 erased her old school record of 13:10.

Freshman Paula Rozycki, running the 100 meter hurdles for the first time in competition, also set a new school record. The school record, a time of 1:2 set in 1977, was broken by Miss Rozycki's clocking of 1:5.8.

"Paula has some talent."

Other North team members who placed included: Miss Rozycki, fourth in the 200 meter hurdles; Nancy McClellan, fourth in the 400 meter dash; and Debbie Brandt, fifth in the 100 meter relay. The 1600 meter relay team, Lisa Kalka, Miss Rozycki, Angie Novosell and Miss Rozycki, also placed third.

On the other hand, North's pitcher, Monica Fanning, pitched better than Edwardsville's pitcher, Michelle Morgan. Kristi Whitaker lined sharply to the shortstop for the second out.

But to North's credit, they were still able to capitalize on the bases loaded situation. Miss Bledsoe and Miss Hutchings each doubled to knock in two runs a piece and give North a 6-3 lead.

Edwardsville came back the bottom half of the inning to score two runs and close the score to 6-5. North added an insurance run in the top of the seventh inning.

Although Miss Bland struck out 11 North batters and only gave up six hits, she did give up seven walks. Four of those seven batters who walked scored.

Character lifts Steelers past Tiger tracksters

By THERESA GULL

Character.

Harry Lang, Granite City North boys' head track coach, firmly believes one ingredient which separates the winners from the losers in the "work sport" of track is character.

It is one reason why Lang felt North pulled out a 74-72 win against Edwardsville yesterday afternoon at the SIUE-Edwardsville track.

"I'm just super pleased," Lang said, "in my opinion, anytime you can beat anyone with that type of talent, it's a credit to your character."

"I'm just really pleased with the courage the kids showed today."

jump were just one indication of the abundance of talent in the meet. Alan Pregel of North jumped 42 feet, a distance which usually places first in dual meets. He placed fifth.

Another North triple jumper, David Long, set a new school record with a leap of 45'3". His record setting performance was still only good for second place.

Winning the event was Kevin Mosby of Edwardsville. He jumped 46'5".

The events which scored the most points and won the meet for North were the weight and the distance running events.

North swept all three places in both the shot put and the discus. David Kensing was a double winner with throws of 47-feet-6 1/2 in the shot put and 142-feet-5 in the discus. Paul Ballow and John Morris finished second and third in both events.

North also captured first and second places in the 3200 meter run. Finishing first was sophomore Jim Robertson with a time of 10:13.17. Junior Kenny Meyer placed second with a time of 10:43.88.

Equally important was North's performance in the 1600 meter run. Although the Steelers didn't place first in the event, John Peters and Robinson did score crucial points for North by placing second and third respectively.

A bad hand-off by Edwardsville in the 1600 meter relay also gave North an extra boost. North had a slight one step lead going into the final leg. Edwardsville dropped the baton in the final exchange, however, destroying any possibility of overtaking North and winning the race.

North also placed first in three other events. Tim Dean won the 400 meter run in 54:24; David Davis the 300 meter hurdles in 40:79; and Jon Dobler and Ron Rowden tied for first in the pole vault, each jumping 11'9".

Sports of All Sorts

Sports of All Sorts

By AL BARNES

Four years ago a group of die hard baseball fans, all from southwestern Illinois, set down and organized a semi-pro club in an attempt to ward off the death of amateur baseball locally.

The old Illinois Inter-City League, whose roots go back to the Roaring Twenties (and maybe even sooner than that), was growing moribund. Yes, many even thought local baseball was dying. Wendell Cory, local baseball fan (from the word "fanatic") and ex-player and owner of one of the City's favorite taverns, was a prime mover in the formation of the Civic, the semi-pro baseball team which grew out of that meeting mentioned in the lead paragraph.

Cory, whose son Larry was the first baseman on that first Civic club in 1978, was the manager of the old Mercer's Inter-City team on which many standout Tri-City former baseball stars played. Cory's advice and help was a big factor in getting the Civic off the ground. Wendell is, without a doubt, the No. 1 Cub fan in this area.

Now, four years later, the Civic has decided to expand their horizons. They've decided to go regional: that is, they're becoming the South West Illinois Civic Semi-Pro team.

In the next few weeks, open try outs will be held to select the roster of the 1982 Civic, which will play part of their games in Alton, East Alton-Wood River, at Granite City South (about 30 percent, it is now planned), at Hoppe Field in Edwardsville (their home field, the first three years), at Fletcher Field in Collinsville, at Citizens Field in Belleville. They will be truly a southwestern Illinois baseball club.

Back from last year will be such stars as local favorites Jack Scarborough, Tom Henrich (South Alton) now a senior on Illinois State's varsity, Darrell Welend of Edwardsville and currently a standout on the SIUE-Cougars, at shortstop, it'll be a toss-up between veteran Pat Peterson and Granite City's own Mike Robertson, now a sophomore fixture on the Salukis of Tishy Hones at SIUE-Carbondale. Robertson was simply mind-boggling at North High. In his senior year (1980), he captured the Steelers' soccer, basketball and baseball teams.

Peterson, too, had a brilliant career at Edwardsville, a school which seems to produce outstanding shortstops, and at SIUE, where he made All-American and went on to advance to the New York Yankees' Triple A-A club before bowing out to raise a family.

At third base for the 1982 Civic, it'll very probably be Edwardsville's Dan Allara to take over from former Cougars star, John (Red) Urban, who is about to make a try for a pro career in golf and a go on the tour, we've been told.

Last year's catching job, which was handed mainly by Granite City's Keith Champion, will be taken over by a native of Nebraska, Rusty Hilgenkamp, who is currently a member of the Bears of Southwest Missouri State U. of Springfield, Mo. In fact, Rusty was the principal player which allowed Southwest to keep their advantage in recent years over the Cougars in SIUE's trip south to New Mexico two weeks ago. It was his grand-slam four-bagger which devastated the Cougars.

The Civic's designated hitter and swing-man again will be Bob Hughes, who is now the St. Louis Cardinals' batting practice pitcher.

Back to hurl for the Civic will be Jerry Logan of Edwardsville, who hurt his arm last year and saw only limited action but is expected to be in top shape for the '82 campaign. Logan won two games in the National Baseball Congress national tournament two years ago.

This year, former SIUE varsity baseball coach, Roy E. Lee, will attempt a comeback from heart trouble by tutoring the Civic's batters.

Field manager of the '82 Civic will be Tom Pyle, currently varsity coach at Edwardsville High.

It's now that time throughout the Land. Cries of "Play Ball" are being heard loud and clear and most Americans can hardly wait.

Hall of Fame groundbreaking in April

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new National Bowling Hall of Fame and Museum will be held at the site in downtown St. Louis on April 20.

The $7.2 million facility will be located at Eighth and Walnut streets adjacent to Busch Memorial Stadium and is expected to be open to the public during the summer of 1983.

The triangular-shaped building will contain 50,000 square feet on three levels. While primarily a museum depicting the history and evolution of bowling and featuring an old-time bowling alley, the facility will also contain a large-screen theater, a variety of exhibits and plaques and portraits honoring bowling greats.

Center sponsors chess tourney

The Community Christian Center located at 2801 Marshall in Granite City is sponsoring a chess tournament, Tuesday, April 6.

Billed as a tournament for strategists, the double elimination tournament begins at 9 a.m.

Entry fees for the tournament are $2 per person. Trophies will be given to the first and second place finishers.

Further information may be obtained by calling Rev. Jeff Smith, pastor and director of the center, at 877-4439.

In addition, it will house the halls of fame of the sports world's two largest membership-services organizations, the American Bowling Congress and the Women's International Bowling Congress. The WIBC will be holding its national tournament in St. Louis during the week scheduled for ground-breaking, with some 3000 women bowlers expected for the tournament.

The land for the National Bowling Hall of Fame and Museum, valued at $1 million, was donated by Center Bancorporation (formerly First National Bank in St. Louis). International Business Machines Corporation and The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States which are jointly developing the nearby Center Plaza. An additional $1 million in contributions is expected to be made by St. Louis corporations, including a $500,000 commitment by Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc. The remainder of the funds is being raised through national suppliers to the bowling industry, league bowling activities throughout the country and other contributions.

St. Louis was selected as the site for the National Bowling Hall of Fame and Museum following competition with a number of American cities. The new Bowling Hall of Fame and Museum is expected to attract an estimated 150,000 visitors annually.

The building was designed by the St. Louis architectural firm of Saunders & Thalden. Exhibits are being designed by DeMartin, Marona, Cranston, Downes, Inc. of New York. General contractor is the Koster Co. of St. Louis.

Bowling is considered the most widely played sport in the United States, with nine million persons competing regularly in sanctioned leagues and another 55 million who bowl on a periodic basis.

Wizards invite GC teams to tournament

The Wizards softball team of Cahokia is extending an invitation to Class C softball teams in Granite City to participate in an April tournament.

According to a Wizards spokesperson, the tourney will be played April 22-25 at the American Legion Post 784 in Cahokia. Prize money will be given to the first four teams. Entry fees are $75 per team.

More information may be obtained by calling either 337-5707 or 337-9856.

New gambling opinion further clouds waters

Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber has told county law enforcement officials that certain types of activities at some profit-making organizations, such as taverns, are illegal and should not be permitted.

That opinion has further clouded the waters as to which not-for-profit gambling activities are legal and which are illegal, Chief of Police Ronald Veizer of Granite City said Monday afternoon.

Illegal activities include such things as tote boards, punch cards and 50-50 "attendance" drawings, Weber said in a letter to law enforcement officials dated March 16.

"Although the state's attorney's policy towards some forms of not-for-profit fund-raising techniques are not considered 'gambling,' the above mentioned tote boards, punch cards and 'attendance' drawings and similar games of chance are considered gambling," Weber stated.

"Because there may be some question concerning the illegal activities, I advise a warning before an arrest," Weber wrote. "However, I do think we should enforce the gambling laws in the areas designated above."

"It's hard to get really excited about it (the letter)," said Granite City Police Chief Ronald Veizer.

Veizer said that in the past when the city has conducted gambling raids and confiscated gambling equipment from fraternal and veterans' organizations, the equipment has even been returned to the owners.

"I don't really know what he means," Veizer said about Weber's latest statement. "Apparently, they've got a problem somewhere."

The chief said that he is sure some taverns in the Granite City area have their share of "football pools," but such activities may not be considered illegal by Weber, if the house does not profit from the venture.

Seminar series on alcohol counseling

The Office of Continuing Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a series of workshops on alcoholism counseling during April and May.

The three workshops are part of the university's career and professional development series and were developed through the cooperation of the Region IV Department of Mental Health and the Illinois Alcoholism Counselor Certification Board.

A workshop scheduled for April 13 will focus on "Fiscal Management and Third Party Payments: Marketing Alcoholism Services." The April 28 workshop will concentrate on the topic, "Clinical Administration and Supervision," and the final workshop on May 12 will consider "Driving Under the Influence of Alcohol."

While these workshops are designed specifically for practicing alcoholism counselors and administrators, others who work in the social service field are expected to find them beneficial, including social workers, nurses, physicians, psychologists, educators and lawyers.

Registration is $45 for the April 13 workshop, $35 for the April 28 workshop and $40 for the May 12 workshop. The registration fee includes workshop materials and lunch.

The April 13 workshop will be held in the Mississippi Room of the University Center from 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Deadline for registration is tomorrow.

Participants will receive an overview of current national and state health policy directions with specific emphasis on mental health and alcoholism services. They will also learn ways of promoting their organizations.

During the morning session, Margaret Hastings, executive director of the Illinois Committee on Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities, will discuss "Health Systems at a Crossroads," and Marlon William Gleason, director of claims administration for the St. Louis chapter of Blue Cross, will talk about "The Blue Cross Plan Perspective."

During the afternoon session, Brenda Blair, regional administrator for the employee counseling services program in the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, will give a presentation on "Marketing Alcoholism Services."

Additional information on any of the workshops in the series may be obtained by contacting the SUE Office of Continuing Education at 1-692-3210.

YOUNG GIRL SCOUT. Girl Scout Troops from St. Elizabeth Catholic School attending a party to honor Neale Kay Ingram, center, on her first birthday observed during Girl Scout Week. The youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe (Rhonda) Ingram of Granite City, was selected by the troops last year as an adopted future Girl Scout. She is held by her mother next to a birthday cake decorated in green and white colors. Members of Brownie Troop 100, Junior Troops 216 and 196, Cadette Troop 663 and leaders wait for the honoree to blow out the single candle before serving refreshments.

Rev. Watkins gives lesson

The Rev. Carl Watkins presented a devotional lesson, taken from John 6:67-71, at a monthly meeting of the Friendly Agers Senior Citizen Club held in the Second Baptist Church.

Mrs. Mina Duggins, club president, welcomed 43 members and five guests who attended. The opening prayer was offered by Bob Lewis.

Group singing followed with Jack Jenkins at the piano, and the Senior Choir also sang several selections under the direction of Jenkins, song leader.

Readings included "One Way Street" given by Naomi Rongey and "Meet My Master Face to Face" by Earl Spalding.

Two new members, Earl and Gertrude Spalding, were presented during the social hour. Mrs. Ruby Mayberry directed several games and refreshments were served.

Chapter elects Barbara Hente

Members of Xi Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, elected officers to serve for the ensuing year at a meeting held by Anastasia Ellett, 3119 Colgate Place, last week.

The 1982-83 corps of officers included: Barbara Hente, president; Janet Monaghan, vice-president; Jane Carbone, recording secretary; Vickie Thomas, corresponding secretary and Judy Bartel, treasurer.

A discussion was held on new projects planned for chapter members including a mother's day party tentatively set for May 2 and a garage sale on May 15 at the home of Carolyn Walsh, 24th and State streets.

The president reviewed an informal meeting of Beta Sigma Phi in St. Louis, which six local members attended. Refreshments were served by the hostess to those named and to Terri Davis, Joan Fritchard, Dorothy Simpson, Carolyn Walsh and Cookie White.

Learning about business and what makes America tick

The annual Junior Achievement fund campaign is not as well known as many other drives because it focuses, appropriately, on business rather than the general public. But JA has considerable importance because it seeks to foster understanding of one of the chief elements that makes America the great land that it is—free enterprise.

The quality of the training program is to be given special emphasis in 1982-83 here and throughout the 22-center Mississippi Valley JA region.

With 8,500 JA members regionwide, the program serves more than 600 high school students in the Quad-City area, including the Madison-Venice program, and the Granite City JA Center, the latter located on Wabash Avenue.

The local community serves a higher percentage of the teenage population than is the case anywhere else in the bi-state area. And this JA region has been a pace-setter nationally for many years.

The typical JA company here generates more than $1,500 worth of business activity, compared to $900 in the region.

At the annual "Future Unlimited" banquet to be held April 15, about 2,000 students will be honored and a number of Quad-Cityans will be among those receiving awards for outstanding efforts.

Instead of textbook instruction, Junior Achievement enables students to "learn by doing." The young people set up their own company, keep their own records, select and design product, manufacture it, package it and sell it to friends, neighbors, classmates and others.

They meet weekly with adults from sponsoring corporations. The adults are a source of helpful advice, but all JA company officers, including the presidency, are held by the teenagers.

For the past five years, JA also has sponsored "Project Business," through which business people visit public schools. The guests provide added insight for the students on "the world of work" and issues related to the economy and to business competition.

In this region, 4,500 junior high youngsters receive this program annually.

Why is JA so attractive to young people and so effective in educating them about the business realm? They may be the first-hand experience that is imparted.

The students' companies are only miniature in size but between October and April the operation encounters everything from initial capitalization to final liquidation.

Aided by the volunteer, unpaid adult advisers who themselves have direct experience in business and industry, the Achievers form a brand-new, unique company, sell stock, elect officers, make and market a tangible product, pay wages, salaries and commissions, forward payments for their taxes, and issue a return to the stockholders.

The benefits to the young people who participate are thought to include the development of leadership ability, a change to measure one's vocational interests, acquisition of decision-making ability, attendance at business conferences and seminars, and a number of other benefits.

For everyone, young and old, there are such dividends as the creation of positive attitudes toward our business system, which contrasts so sharply with the dismal conditions under Communism and other dictatorships; the presentation of constructive career alternatives to youths; and the development of better-informed employees, citizens and future leaders.

CBS Television Network President James H. Rosenfield sees JA as "the most exciting and effective means of communicating the essence of democracy—the free enterprise system."

Xerox Corp. President David T. Kearns adds, "I have a strong faith that the American business system is the only one to survive as a nation, then our young people must understand and be a part of that system."

Emphasis on prevention is curbing incidence of cancer

James L. Holland is chairman of the 1982 American Cancer Society residential crusade in the Quad-City area April 18-25. Its objective of $40,000 represents a share of the District Eight and of the Illinois Division's $7 million target.

Mr. Holland comments, "While it is necessary to cure or suppress the cancer, the financial goal to be able to build momentum in the attack against cancer, perhaps equally or more important is the Society's wish to place its new share of the crusade in the hands of as many local residents as possible."

"The 1982 leaflet takes an exciting new approach. So often, when the subject of cancer comes up, we think about our chances of getting the disease or how we must remember to make an appointment for our next checkup to make sure we can detect it early if we should be unlucky enough to develop it. Or, so often, it seems that cancer is lurking around every corner and practically everything causes it."

"That is why this year's leaflet is exciting. It tells us 11 things that don't cause cancer." It gives us a real feeling that we don't have to sit around waiting for the disease to happen. There are things we can do to help prevent the disease. In fact, cancer is not a 60 percent of all cancers can be prevented.

"We are not listing them here because we want everyone to get a copy of the leaflet by contacting the local Cancer Society office or calling me at 451-9283."

"The leaflet also tells about the new and exciting cancer prevention study, patterned after the Society's original 20-year study exploring the lifestyle of more than one million Americans."

"The study, which has significant data emerged, is the overwhelming evidence linking cigarette smoking to cancer."

"The American Cancer Society is asking for researchers for the study, which will answer some of the questions about our recent habits and substances. Cigarettes really are dangerous! What about various pills?"

"It is hard to imagine that a leaflet on cancer can be so encouraging. If we are in thinking about it in terms of preventing it."

Suit blames car's fuel system

A trial was scheduled to resume today in which a Pontiac Beach man is suing American Motors over an allegedly defective fuel system that he says caused him to be injured and burned in a 1978 accident on Sand Prairie Lane.

The suit filed for John Kelley Jr. says the fuel system of his 1978 Pontiac was defective and caused him to be injured and burned in a 1978 accident on Sand Prairie Lane.

Medical Center, Granite City.

According to the Illinois State Police, both vehicles were northbound. Kelley's car was reportedly passing Wilson's car when the Kelley car skidded out of control on ice and hit a bridge abutment, police said.

Both passengers in the Kelley car were thrown out. The woman was run over by the Wilson car, police said.

Kelley's car caught fire; the blaze was extinguished by the State Park Fire Department.

Kelley's suit contends the car was "unreasonably dangerous" because the fuel system was not sufficient to prevent a reasonably foreseeable impact, was not equipped with proper self-sealing devices which would prevent the escape of gasoline in a crash, and was not adequately protected to prevent the fuel system from being damaged in a collision.

The suit also alleges that the 1972 Hornet was not of marketable quality because of the fuel system and that the car was not fit for highway transportation because the fuel system was allegedly defective and unworkable.

The suit seeks an unspecified amount of money. Representing Kelley at the trial is attorney Morris Chapman of Granite City. Attorney for American Motors and Jung Brothers is Allen Churchill of Belleville.

Churchill said the trial was recessed because one of his witnesses could not be present this week. However, the plaintiff's case has not yet been completely presented, he said.

"Being unemployed isn't so bad... it's not having money for food, rent and clothes for the kids that I can't stand!"

Unemployment nears 15 percent

BY GARY SCHNEIDER

of the Press-Record

With the national unemployment rate passing the nine percent mark, the highest unemployment rate since World War II, national attention is being focused on areas such as Granite City, where high unemployment has become a part of life.

Unemployment figures for February, released by the Illinois Job Service Friday, set unemployment at 14.8 percent in Granite City, a slight improvement from the 14.9 percent figures are not yet available.

Unemployment figures here, however, were the lowest since September, 1981, when 13.1 percent were unemployed. That jumped in October to 16.2 percent and has been decreasing slightly since.

In the seven-county region, which includes Madison County, the average unemployment rate was 11.4 percent in February, according to R.L. Worden of the research and analysis division of the Illinois Job Service.

Calhoun County had the highest unemployment rate with 23.1 percent of the workforce seeking jobs. Jersey County was second with an unemployment rate of 16 percent. That was followed by Clinton County with 12.1 percent, Bond County with 12.4, Monroe County with 12.1 percent and St. Clair County with 11.6 percent.

Of 119,934 persons in the Madison County workforce, 13,789 were actively seeking work in February, Worden's figures indicate. That is a rise from the 13,100 unemployed in January in the county, his statistics showed.

Granite City's unemployment rate remains much higher than in East St. Louis, where the rate in February was listed only at 11 percent. However, experts say a higher percentage of those unemployed in Granite City may be actively seeking work and receiving benefits than in East St. Louis. Those not on the unemployment rolls are not counted by the Job Service.

Worden noted that in the State of Illinois, of 5.5 million available workers, 561,000 were unemployed during February, or 10.1 percent. That is an identical percentage to the final statewide January figures, he noted.

Worden said that in the seven county area for which he keeps statistics, "all areas are exceeding the state rate of unemployment." Recessionary pressures continue to sustain or further elevate rates of unemployment.

"One factor to February's low unemployment, he stated is that 'Outdoor activities halted with totally unacceptable weather conditions.'

Students testify on drugs

High school students from Madison County have begun testifying to grand jurors about drug abuse, local school officials have been told.

State's Attorney Don W. Weber says there are plans to interview students from every high school in the county in an effort to locate drug pushers.

He asserts that students will be required to name their drug sources, or will be jailed for refusing to cooperate, or will be charged with using drugs.

The state's attorney believes students have no right to withhold information from a grand jury as long as they do not incriminate themselves. "We'll ask a judge to put them in jail if they don't talk," Weber is being quoted as saying.

Prosecutors believe that publicity about the grand jury probe is already having a good effect by reducing drug activity in schools.

Some school officials say this undoubtedly will be the short-term effect, with the current level of drug abuse decreasing. But they express surprise at the public announcements, commenting that a quieter investigation might have had more long-term success.

Woman hurt in dispute

Mrs. Beverly Partney, 3601 Edison Ave., reported at 2:15 a.m. Saturday being injured in a dispute at her home with a man she knows.

She told police the man refused to leave the house when requested and an argument ensued. At that point, the man grabbed her by the arms, shook her and ripped off a necklace she was wearing.

Granite City School Supt. B.J. Davis said today that he welcomes efforts to reduce drug problems in the local community and feels the problem is broader than the schools, which tend to reflect practices and attitudes of their community.

He points out that drug arrests occur often, with parents and police contacted immediately.

Davis is uncertain that the type of approach being followed by the grand jury will permanently cut off drug sources or curb drug activity.

Weber, in contrast, sees the approach as being perpetuated by future grand juries and future state attorneys, as a permanent way of discouraging illegal drug use.

Woman hurt in dispute

Mrs. Partney said the man threatened her life, struck and kicked her legs and spit in her face and hair. She got the man to leave after she threatened him with a poker, she told police.

Officers said the victim had bruises and other marks on her arms and legs and they advised her to contact an attorney and file a complaint.

Girl raped; arrest man

A Granite City man, 25, is being held for investigation as a result of instances of rape reported Sunday morning in the rural area and in a residence on Missouri Avenue.

The victim, a 16-year-old Belleville girl, was treated at a hospital. She had flagged down a passing state police car, and Granite City police joined the trooper and a Rape Crisis Center representative in the investigation.

She and two of her girlfriends were visiting for a short time at the home, and the others were gone when she returned from purchasing cigarettes at a local store.

A family member declined to pick her up, and the man offered to take her as far as Cahokia. Instead, he stopped on a "back road" and the initial attack occurred in his auto after she was struck about the face.

He forced her to return to the residence. She was used to consume four pills of an unknown drug to calm herself.

Before she could escape she was assaulted again, she told authorities; there were repeated threats of harm during the morning hours.

PISTOL, CASH GONE
Linda Stufflebean, 804 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported a home steal $250 caused her purse and a 22-caliber pistol from her dwelling at 10:50 a.m. Saturday.

NEW BANKING FACILITY. Drew Karandjoff, president of the Granite City (Trust) Bank, center with shovel, breaks ground Friday at 24th Street and Madison Avenue for a 3,500 square-foot banking facility. The new bank will have four inside teller windows, four drive-up windows and the fifth 24-hour Total Teller machine to be put into operation. In the front row, from left, are: Third Ward Alderman Paul Fisk; Mayor Paul Schuler; John Krekovich; Nick Petrillo, city treasurer;

Homer Huber; Dale Arnette; Henry Karandjoff, chairman emeritus of the bank; Ernest Karandjoff, chairman of the board; Drew Karandjoff, John Polson, bank vice-president; Carl Mathias, regional service manager for Illinois Power Co.; William Donovan, works manager of American Steel; and Alan Richardson, executive vice-president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. The new facility and the five Total Tellers represent a $750,000 investment by the bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Henke

Henke-Pfeiffer

Miss Deborah Pfeiffer and U.S. Navy Ensign Joseph Henke were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony on Feb. 20 at the Second Baptist Church, with the Rev. Carl Watkins officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pfeiffer, 2150 State St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Henke, 2457 Morrison Road.

Nuptial music was by Carl Holm and included, "We're Only Just Begun," "This Love," and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding the bride chose a white silk street length dress and she wore a halo of blue and white silk rosebuds in her hair. She also carried a bouquet of white silk carnations and blue rosebuds intermingled with baby's breath.

Matron of honor was Pamela Leslie, a cousin of the bride, and the best man was Lenny McGee, the groom's cousin.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church basement with Linda Leslie attending the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and the groom was graduated from Hillsboro High School. He is currently serving with the U.S. Navy in Mayport, Fla., where they are now residing.

Couple to mark anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie B. Thompson of Granite City, will celebrate their 18th wedding anniversary on April 11, at a family dinner party to be held in their home.

Mr. Thompson and his wife, the former Beverly Drabant, were married at 1616 Ferguson Ave., on April 11, by the Rev. Austin Fisher.

They are the parents of seven children, Don, Gene, Norma, Donna, Roy, Bobby and Gary, all of Granite City. They also have eight grandchildren, Tonya, Genia, Jason, Kristina, Christopher, Jerome, Kim and Julie.

Revival at Temple Baptist Church

Revival services are in progress at the Temple Baptist Church of Madison, and will continue through Saturday, April 10, according to the Rev. Jack Gouy, host pastor.

Guest evangelist, the Rev. Robert Hoffman pastor of the Lindewood Baptist Church in St. Louis, delivers sermons each evening at 7 o'clock. Special singing throughout the week will be directed by Bill Scroggins who will present a mini-concert on Thursday evening.

Other activities planned for the week long observance include hot dog night for children on Thursday, a pizza night for the youth on Friday and an old fashioned event on Saturday with supper to be served on the grounds of the church.

Wine slew monsters In mythology, soon after Japan was created it was invaded by dragons. To dispel them, a god brewed rice wine (sake), which slew the fire-breathing monsters. And it gave the humans a lift in spirits that continues today.

Mrs. Bernadine Cooley, treasurer.

An election will be held at the next meeting set for April 21 at the Nameoki Recreation Center, and Lucille Butler will give a program on the Six Mile Historical Museum, it was announced.

Jackie Schultz and Leo Lones

Lones-Schultz

The engagement and forthcoming wedding of Miss Jackie J. Schultz, daughter of Mrs. Bonita Schultz, Rural Route Two, Granite City, and the late Richard L. Schultz, and Leo D. Lones, is being announced by the bride-to-be's mother. Parents of the groom-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lones, reside at 1071 St. Margaret, Chokiba.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Willman

Mr. and Mrs. Willman mark 50th anniversary

An open house reception was given to honor Mr. and Mrs. Loren Willman, 2040 Alton Ave., Madison, on their golden wedding anniversary at the First Baptist Church in Madison.

The honorees received 250 guests during the afternoon social event, hosted by their seven children.

Mr. Willman and his wife, the former Verna Allison, were married on Feb. 22, 1932, in Bellevue, Ill., and have resided in the Quad-Cities for 34 years.

He was employed for 17 years at Lippsett Steel Co. until he retired seven years ago. Mrs. Willman worked at various dress factories in the area and retired in 1976 from Fortney's Dress Factory in St. Louis, after three years employment there.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Willman are members of the First Baptist Church in Madison, and hold membership in the DelRay Rebekah Lodge and Odd Fellows Lodge in Madison. Hosting the party were Mrs. Betty Barrett, Mrs. Loretta Robinson, Grant, Jack and Ronnie Willman all of Madison, and Mrs. Leila Hendrix, Granite City, and Mrs. Lena Thomas of Edwardsville.

Mrs. Linda Irwin circle hostess

Mrs. Linda Irwin served as hostess for the Lydia Group of Central Christian Church and also gave the study and worship entitled, "Building Together."

She served a dessert luncheon in the Terrace Room of the church to members and a newly enrolled member, Dianne Randall. Helen Stumpe, group leader, announced that "blanket Sunday" will be held on May 2 and a breakfast will be served at 9:30 a.m. Easter Sunday. She also noted that 30 cards have been sent to former and prospective members inviting them to attend the individual group sessions.

Preceptor Chapter elects

Mrs. Carol Cathey was elected president of Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, at a dinner meeting held at Roulton's Restaurant in Collinsville.

Others elected to serve for the 1982-83 year include, Delores Dortch, vice-president, Terry Guldge, recording secretary, Linda Koenig, corresponding secretary, Pat Tsigoloff, treasurer, Marilyn Lumpkins, extension officer. Representatives to the Sorority City Council include Miss Lumpkins, Mrs. Cathey and B.J. Jones.

Miss Lumpkins, the retiring officer, announced the next executive board meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Cathey and the regular business session will convene at 7:30 p.m.

Arlene Haldean announced the chapter members are invited to attend the Preceptor Day Celebration in Alton, April 14, at 7:15 p.m., at which time yearbooks and scrapbooks will be exchanged for judging.

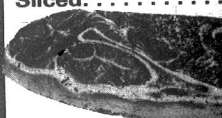

After the business segment an Order of the Rose ritual was conducted by Mrs. Jane Stevens for Miss Lumpkins to commemorate her 15 active years with Beta Sigma Phi. A candlelight ceremony was held and the honoree was presented with a yellow rose, a certificate and an Order of the Rose pin. Others participating in the ritual were Martha Dyer, Lucille Voyles, Norma Rains, Dolores Byrnes and Imogene Forrest.

GREEN LAWN

GO WITH EXPERIENCE . . .

WE'RE CELEBRATING OUR 25th YEAR . . . This area's oldest lawn spray company . . . we invented it.

We know, as all agronomists know, that the secret to beautiful grass is properly scheduled applications of fertilizer, weed killers to control both grass type (crabgrass) and broadleaf (dandelions - chickweed) weeds and insecticide to control weevorms, chinch bugs, etc.

Included in our spray program are applications of SLOW RELEASE NITROGEN THAT NEVER STOPS FEEDING as long as your grass is growing and actually slows down its feeding during periods of low rainfall when it's not needed. If your lawn isn't receiving applications of . . . NITROFORM . . . you're not getting your money's worth.

THE GREEN LAWN PLAN . . .

Provides five sprays - early Spring, late Spring Summer, late Summer, early Fall, and Fall. It supplies fertilizers just when your lawn needs them. Five broadleaf weed sprays to control dandelion, chickweed, buckhorn, plantain spurge . . . Those weeds that seem never to stop coming up from early Spring to late Fall. Crabgrass control and insecticide applications in the Summer.

RATES FOR THE GREEN LAWN PROGRAM ARE BASED ON THE AREA TO BE TREATED, NOT TOTAL LOT SIZE, AND . . . THE LARGER THE LAWN THE LOWER THE COST PER 1000 SQUARE FEET.

OUR PROGRAM CONTINUES YEAR AFTER YEAR - REQUIRES NO CONTRACT AND PROVIDES FOR PAYMENT BY MAIL AFTER EACH APPLICATION FOR AS LONG AS YOU DESIRE AFTER THE FIRST FIVE APPLICATIONS (5% DISCOUNT FOR PRE-PAYMENT.)

INSURANCE TAX

Governor's proposal comes under fire

By KEN WATSON
SPRINGFIELD — Insurance is shaping up as a big issue in the 1982 legislative session.

Lawmakers will be considering a proposal by Gov. James Thompson that they levy a tax on the premiums of all insurance policies in Illinois, and also a far-reaching revision of the way in which workmen's compensation insurance is sold.

Both proposals are certain to be resisted fiercely by the insurance industry, a unique one in Illinois from a legislative-political standpoint. Illinois has long ranked near the top among the states in the size and collective wealth of its insurance industry.

The Legislature long ago recognized its potential power by singling it out as one of the few industries expressly forbidden to contribute to political campaigns. The law also makes it illegal for any candidate to knowingly accept campaign contributions from an insurance company. It also states that "any officer aiding or abetting in any contribution made in violation of this Section shall be liable to the company for the amount so contributed."

There was some Capitol chattering among those aware of the contribution prohibition about Thompson's singling out of the insurance industry as a new source for state revenue.

An effort was made at last year's legislative session to repeal the ban on insurance company contributions. The repeal bill passed the House with two votes to spare, but lost in the Senate, 18 to 22. There is no prohibition against insurance executives using their own money and multimillionaire Chicago insurance man W. Clement Stone frequently contributes immense sums to Republican candidates.

The insurance industry, moreover, is respected at the Statehouse for the effectiveness of its lobbyists. Each session many bills — about 140 last year — affecting the insurance industry are introduced in the Legislature, and few considered unfavorable by the insurance companies pass.

Several insurance organizations, including the Insurance Information Institute, have already taken aim at the proposed tax. Their basic argument is that it would just be another tax on consumers with the insurance companies passing it on in the form of higher premiums.

As proposed by Thompson, the tax would be a 2 percent levy on all insurance policies sold in the state and would raise about $70 million in new revenue.

At present the tax — enacted in 1953 — is levied only on policies sold in Illinois by out-of-state insurance companies. So not only would the proposed tax add to the costs of Illinois firms, but it would destroy the competitive advantage now enjoyed over out-of-state companies.

The current Capitol consensus is that no tax increase of any sort can be passed this election year. Legislators cannot expect hundreds of thousands of policyholders and potential voters who would be hit by higher insurance premiums.

The outlook could be brighter for another major piece of insurance legislation. This is legislation to scrap the present system whereby worker's compensation insurance rates in Illinois are set by agreement among the companies offering the insurance. Proposed legislation would require that the rates be determined through competitive bidding.

The Thompson administration has thrown its support behind a bill sponsored by Sen. Aldo DeAngelis, R-Chicago Heights. State Insurance Director Philip O'Connor, testifying at a legislative hearing, charged that Illinois business is "trapped in an outmoded system of worker's compensation ratesetting" and urged passage of DeAngelis' bill.

Said O'Connor: "Although the Insurance Department must approve the price the 250 sellers of workmen's compensation have agreed among themselves to charge, the law is virtually no attention to the huge investment in the more than one billion in new premiums each year."

O'Connor said that Minnesota, Oregon, Michigan, Georgia and Arkansas are moving toward competitive pricing of workmen's compensation insurance.

Changing of the rate-setting system could be a boost to Illinois efforts to

Symposium on mental health

Keith Neuber, Special Services coordinator at Mental Health Services, Southern Madison County, Inc., will serve as a group leader at the symposium titled, "Survival of a Maverick: Primary Prevention for Mental Health in Today's Society," on Monday, April 19, at Southern Illinois University in Edwardsville.

The symposium, which will be held from 8:30 a.m. until 4:15 p.m., will discuss societal expectations in the development and application of primary prevention programs for mental health. The Mental Health Services is a private, not-for-profit organization that serves all residents in the southern half of Madison County. Besides the many services offered by the agency, a speaker's bureau is provided to organizations who wish to request the service with advance notice.

More information about the speaker's bureau is available from Janice Mayberry, 2004 State St., 977-4420.

SIERRA CLUB WELCOMES GUEST

On Monday, April 12, the Piasa Palisades Sierra Club will host Ken Mitchell, the new executive director of the Illinois Environmental Council (IEC) in the First Presbyterian Church in Alton at 7:30 p.m.

Local environmental representative Richard Worthen, says, "The formation of the IEC is the most important environmental innovation in the last decade — bar none." He also pointed out that the IEC provides both a coordinating forum and a harmonizing structure for the efforts of more than 60 diverse environmental groups throughout the state. The council assists new groups to organize around specific local issues, such as the uncovering and disposing of hazardous waste and air pollution.

hold industry in the state and to attract job-creating businesses from other states. The high cost of workmen's compensation is frequently cited as a major reason why many companies leave or shut Illinois.

The great emphasis being placed by about all candidates this year on improving the Illinois business climate could well result in passage of the DeAngelis bill or similar legislation.

NEWS ANALYSIS

Remap causes substantial turnover

By AL MANNING
SPRINGFIELD — It will be the House versus the Senate in nine districts in the fall.

Of the 23 incumbent state representatives running for the Senate, all but two were successful in the primary.

Of the remaining 21 candidates, nine will challenge an incumbent senator; seven will have no opposition at all; and five will be pitted against non-legislators.

Here's the breakdown on the presentatives running against incumbent senators:

Wayne Alstad of Vergennes against Ken Burbee of Mankato.

Phil Bianco versus Leroy Lemke, both of Chicago.

Clarence Darrow of Rock Island against Randy Thomas of East Moline.

In Oak Park, Redd Griffith challenged Phil Rock.

C. L. McCormick of Vienna against Gene Johns of Marion.

Ted Meyer versus Jeremiah Joyce, both of Chicago.

In Freeport, Harlan Rigney against Jim Getz.

Celeste Stiehl of Belleville challenging Kenny Hall of East Louis.

Greg Zito of Melrose Park versus Richard Walsh of River Forest.

The seven representatives who are assured of victory in the fall — at least they don't have opposition on the ballot — are:

David Barkhausen of Waukegan, Beverly Fawell of Glen Ellyn, George Ray Hudson of Hinsdale, Emil Jones, Margaret Smith and Ted Lechowicz, all of Chicago, and Virginia Heights.

(The party central committee can state candidates for the legislature after the State Board of Elections certifies the primary results and prior to Sept. 1.)

One representative, Craig Findley of Virginia, faces a former representative, Dick Luft of Pekin. Four others — Betty Hoxey of Hazel Crest, Bob Kustra of Glenview and Frank Watson of Greenville — are opposed by non-legislators.

All totaled, 24 candidates for the Senate have no opposition in the general election. However, in several cases the nominee had to win a tough primary contest before getting the free pass for the fall. Of the 24, 13 are Republicans and 11 are Democrats.

Of the four incumbent senators who faced opposition in the primary, two won and two lost.

The two senators defeated by representatives in the primary were John Nimrod, who fell to Kustra, and James McClendon, who was beaten by Smith.

The exodus from the House to the Senate was caused, of course, by the legislative cutback send-ment. Since the size of the House is being reduced by one-third and representatives are being forced to run one-on-one in single member districts (as opposed to multi-member districts), many figured their political future stood just as good a chance of surviving in the Senate as it did in the House.

A lone senator, Steven Nash of Chicago, is switching chambers by running for the House.

Representatives are pitted against a House colleague in 15 districts. Here's the breakdown, beginning in southern Illinois and heading north:

Glen Bower versus Richard Brunner, both of Effingham; Steve Miller of Catlin against Ray Stuffle of Charleston; Virgil Wokoff of Champaign challenging Helen Saterthwaite of Urbana, A. C. "June" Hartsus of Bond versus Gary Hanning of Mt. Olive; Jeff Mays against Mike McClain, both of Quincy.

In Joliet, Harry Leinenweber versus LeRoy VanDyne; in Calumet City, Phil Hunsicker versus Frank Giglio; Nord Swanstrom of Pecatonica versus Dick Mulach of DuRand; Don Karpel of Roselle versus Jack Carey of Streamwood; and Lee Daniels of Elmhurst against Hubert "Bud" Loftus of Addison.

Also, in Oak Lawn, Herb Huskey versus Harry "Bud" Yourell; Elmer Condi of Elmwood Park against Larry DiPrime of Chicago; in Chicago, Roger McArthur challenging Roman Kosinski and Elroy Sandquist against Jesse White, and Mary Jeanne "Dee" Hallstrom of Wilmette versus Woods Bowman of Chicago.

Six incumbent representatives lost to other incumbents in the primary. They are:

In Decatur, John Dunn beat Tim Donovan; Judy Koehler of Henry defeated Jay Ackerman of Morton; in Peoria, Don Saltzman edged Fred Schraeder; in Chicago, Barbara Currie beat Ray Ewell; and Al Roman whipped John Leoni; and Pat Grossi of Glenwood beat Bob Piel of South Holland.

Eight other incumbents were defeated by non-incumbents in the primary. The losers were:

James Kelly of Rockford, Emil Boucek of Western Springs, Joe Ozella of Pekin, Roger Stanley of Streamwood, Jack Dunn of Tinley Park, and Miriam Balanoff, Art Turner and Jesse Jackson, all of Chicago.

Assertiveness topic of talk

Assertiveness is a matter of fair play, according to a 10-year veteran of vocational counseling and social work.

Mary Helen Osborne said a person is being assertive when he or she can accomplish personal goals without being unfair to the individual or unfair to others. She will teach a six-week assertiveness training course at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, beginning Wednesday, April 14.

Mrs. Osborne is working on her master's degree in philosophy with a specialization in women's studies at SIUE. "You can pick up a book and learn to be assertive," she said. "Assertiveness is a behavior skill which must be practiced."

The course is divided into two sections. The first class will be held from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and the second, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The cost is $15 for students and $30 for non-students.

For more information about enrollment, interested persons may call the Office of Continuing Education at 1-622-3210.

Momoh pleads guilty; given year probation

Anthony Momoh, a former Illinois Department of Public Health counselor, has been sentenced to one year of probation after pleading guilty to a charge of official misconduct.

Momoh, 30, a former Collinsville resident, was accused of illegally performing gynecological examinations and dispensing drugs to a female patient.

As part of the agreement, the Madison County state attorney's office dropped battery charges against Momoh.

The sentence was handed down by Circuit Judge Philip R. Hick.

State's Attorney Don Weber said the court action against Momoh can't hold another state job.

Momoh had been found innocent last summer of two counts of official misconduct and one count of aggravated battery in an alleged incident involving another young woman.

Goodson found guilty of exploiting girl, 13

By ED GURNEY
An attorney for Robert Goodson had some critical things to say Wednesday about the Madison County state's attorney office and the judge who presided at his client's trial.

"We are going to follow through in every way we can to have a remedy to this grievous wrong," said the attorney, Ed Welch of Edwardsville.

Goodson, 27, St. Louis, was found guilty Monday on three counts of exploitation of a child. The jury could not agree on two counts of juvenile pimping, so Circuit Judge Andy Matosian declared a mistrial on those two charges.

Goodson had been accused of forcing a 13-year-old runaway into prostitution. The acts of prostitution allegedly occurred at St. Louis area truck stops, including those at Troy and south of Madison.

Welch assisted St. Louis attorney Forrie Elliott in defending Goodson. He said the conviction on the child exploitation charges will be appealed.

Concerning the other two charges, Welch said, "We hope we have an opportunity to retry them."

Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber said his office will not retry Goodson on the juvenile pimping charges, since he was convicted on the more serious offenses.

Child exploitation is a Class X felony punishable by six to 30 years in jail; juvenile pimping is a Class I felony punishable by four to 15 years.

Matosian gave sentencing for April 30.

Welch Wednesday repeated his belief that Prosecutor Susan Jensen should not have been allowed to introduce into evidence what she said was a birth certificate verifying the runaway's age as 13.

"We believe what happened here is a breach of professional responsibility," Welch said. The document was introduced into evidence on the third day of the trial as Mrs. Jensen rested the prosecution's case.

Welch said Mrs. Jensen previously stated that all evidence had been provided. (Under court rules of disclosure, the prosecution and defense are supposed to exchange written questions and answers and documentary evidence prior to the start of a trial.)

Welch had argued that a mistrial should be declared because of the introduction of the document. Matosian denied Welch's request and allowed the document to be introduced as evidence.

Need funds to finish memorial to veterans

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

of the Press-Record
More than 2,000 people attended the groundbreaking ceremony for the nation's memorial to its Vietnam veterans in Washington, D.C., last week.

Among those turning over the shovel of earth were 125 Vietnam veterans, many dignitaries and Jan Scruggs, a former U.S. infantryman and Purple Heart veteran of the Vietnam war, who is the founder and president of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund, Inc.

Construction of the monument is being financed with public donations through the VVMF non-profit organization and a fund raising drive currently is underway.

The state of Illinois has been chosen to spearhead the campaign to raise the necessary $7 million, thereby enabling the memorial to be dedicated, debt free, on Nov. 11, 1982.

Nearly half of the total amount has been contributed thus far, he said.

Vernice B. Walter, 2460 Washington Ave., has been appointed VVMF coordinator for Madison County and St. Clair counties and presently is contacting area organizations, churches and individuals to enlist their support for the memorial fund.

Mrs. Walter said it costs $20 to engrave one name on the memorial.

Many people and groups already have given that amount and some have donated more. Others are giving $5, $10 or other sums, an circumstance permit, she explained.

"Together we can make this expression of gratitude part of our nation's heritage. Everyone can help," Mrs. Walter said.

Donations to the construction fund are tax-deductible and may be made through the Illinois campaign, sponsored by Gov. James R. Thompson, J. S. Seniors Charles H. Percy and Alan J. Dixon, Congressman Paul Simon and other state leaders, by sending checks to:

Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund, Inc., P.O. Box 585, Mattoon, Ill. 61852.

Further information and pre-addressed envelopes may be obtained by calling Mrs. Walter at 876-5748.

Among the members of the National VVMF Sponsoring Committee, consisting of more than 35 prominent Americans, are:

Mrs. Nancy Reagan, President and Mrs. Gerald R. Ford, Mrs. Rosalynn Carter, Carol Burnett, Bob Hope, Roger Staubach, Gen. William C. Westmoreland (Ret'd), Howard Cosell, Senator Barry Goldwater, Joe Canoe of the American G.I. Forum, the U.S. Jimmy Stewart, Pearl Bailey, Arnold "Red" Auerbach and General David C. Jones, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Scruggs, the soldier who saw more than half of his unit killed or wounded in Vietnam, dreamed for several years of building a memorial to all who served their country in the war.

In the beginning, he worked singlehandedly to establish the national memorial honoring all Americans who served in the Vietnam war, particularly the 57,922 men and women who died in the war or are unaccounted for.

By unanimous joint resolution on July 1, 1980, the U.S. Congress set aside, at no cost to VVMF, a two-acre site in the nation's capital for the memorial.

The memorial is in the shape of an open "V" or a chevron, with the ends pointing toward the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial.

Its two polished black granite walls, each over 200 feet long, will descend into the earth and will be inscribed with the names of the 57,922 dead and missing Americans who served in Vietnam. The design was selected from a national competition, open to all Americans over 18 years old, which drew 1,421 entries, many from Vietnam veterans. It was the largest combined petition of its type ever conducted.

A panel of widely known sculptors, architects and landscape architects chose the winning design, which was submitted by Maya Ying Lin, a recent Yale University graduate.

The distinctive style drew criticism from some veterans, 27 members of Congress and the conservative publication, National Review. They believed it did not properly honor the 2.7 million Americans who fought in Vietnam.

Just last week, Scruggs and other backers of the original design announced a compromise that will add a flagpole, heroic statue and two inscriptions to the memorial.

The memorial will be an integral part of the two-acre site of lush green lawns, modest landscaping and stately trees.

"It will be a place for contemplation and reflection, as well as for the tranquility of the pleasant, beautiful park," the VVMF directors said.

The significance of the memorial's site was noted by Senator Charles M. Mathias of Maryland, who said:

"A location on the Mall is symbolically appropriate. We can all recall when the Mall was the battleground of opinion and dissent regarding America's role in Vietnam."

The memorial will make no political statement about the Vietnam war. Rather, it will help reunite "our country" after the divisions caused by the war, Scruggs and the other sponsors have stated.

"It will provide a means for all Americans, regardless of their feelings about the war, to acknowledge the sacrifices of those who served in it," Scruggs said.

Kerr keynote speaker for SIUE anniversary kickoff

Clark Kerr, former president of the University of California, educational adviser to four presidents and the current chairman of the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education, has been selected as the keynote speaker for the opening convocation of the 25th Anniversary celebration at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The convocation, scheduled Sept. 30 at 11 a.m. on the Morris Quadrangle, will launch a year-long series of programs and events "in recognition of the establishment of the University in 1957 and development of SIUE as one of the major institutions of higher learning in the nation," according to David C. Huntley, director of the Office of Cultural Arts and University Museum and chairman of the 25th Anniversary task force.

Huntley said each of the months during the academic year will be designated for a special emphasis related to the celebration. "October will emphasize alumni and their achievements, November will be devoted to academic contributions, December will feature the university as a cultural and entertainment resource, and so forth through the entire nine-month calendar," Huntley announced.

"Commencement 1983 will be the climaxing event" for the celebration, marking 25 years since our first graduates received their diplomas in June, 1958. Huntley said, "Hopefully, we will be able to hold the program in the university's new Multipurpose Building." Huntley said the dedication of the new building, which has been under construction nearly a year, is scheduled as an anniversary event in May of

Panel on schools & social agencies

Cathy Nevlin, supervisor and therapist at Mental Health services, Southern Madison County, Inc., Community Counseling Services, 115 South Main St., Edwardsville, will serve on a panel entitled, "Schools and Social Service Agencies: Common Concerns," on Thursday, April 22, at Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville.

The panel, which will meet from 12:30 to 1:35 p.m., will consist of four panelists. Every panel member will be asked to give information about their agency, clients served, staff qualifications, official mandates and a projection about the future of social agencies.

MEDICAL TECHNICIAN CAREER DAYS

Students interested in careers in medical technology are being invited to attend Laboratory Career Days April 12 and 14 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., sponsored by St. Louis University Medical Center. The Career Days, held in conjunction with the National Medical Laboratory Week, April 11-17, will be in the Margaret McCormick Day Learning Center, 3644 Caroline St., St. Louis. More information is available from Eleanor Crudden, St. Louis University School of Medical Technology, 1-314-664-9800, extension 198, or Carole Turley, St. Louis University Hospitals Laboratory, 1-314-771-7600, extension 3851.

ANNIVERSARY DATE

The 35th anniversary of the Organ Peddlers group of Granite City will be celebrated from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, April 25. The date originally had been reported erroneously at April 15.

GC Mayor's Paint Program to be held its third year

For the third straight year, Granite City will conduct the Mayor's Paint Program, offering senior citizens and low to moderate income families free exterior painting assistance.

The two-month project will start on June 1. The program is coordinated through the office of Mayor Paul Schuler and the Madison County Community Development Office.

Services will be limited to scraping, cleaning and painting with white, gray or black paints on the exteriors of each approved residence. Residents' needs will establish the priority of the house paintings, schedule.

The primary focus of the program will be on senior citizens and low to moderate income families who can document their income levels. Income level and residency requirements must meet standards set down by the county and the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), which funds the project.

Applications and program guidelines for senior citizens may be obtained at the Granite City Township Building, 2060 Delmar Ave. Others may fill out applications at the City Hall, 2000 Edison Ave., at the mayor's office.

Applications will be accepted until June 15. Further information may be obtained by calling Joseph Parente, program coordinator for the Mayor's Paint Program, at 452-8215.

'All about Eve' showing at SIUE

"All About Eve," which was chosen the best film of 1950 Academy Awards, will be shown at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, April 8 to 10.

Starring Bette Davis, Anne Baxter and Marilyn Monroe.

"All About Eve" tells the story of life on the New York stage. The film holds the record for 14 Academy Award nominations.

Admission is $1 for SIUE students with identification and $1.50 for the general public.

More information is available to interested people may contact the University Center Board at 1-492-2617.

Credit union area chapter wins awards

The Southern Illinois Chapter of Credit Unions received the prestigious "Eagle Award" during the Chapter Leaders Conference in Chicago last week.

The award was won in competition with 28 chapters in the state, according to Leland Brackett of Granite City, Southern Illinois chapter president.

Speaking at the conference, Brackett said the best program presented by the local area chapter in 1981 was the "Program on Youth Council," headed by Penni Gebke of St. Agatha Credit Union in New Athens.

Miss Gebke's preparation and enthusiasm in her youth involvement program were highly praised by Brackett.

He also stressed teamwork by all chapter officers is essential in order to present the most interesting and informative programs possible.

The Southern Illinois chapter also won an "Effective Chapter" award.

Seven delegates from this area attended the conference.

Late tax filing will cause late refunds

Taxpayers who want to get their state tax refunds back within the next six to seven weeks should file their returns now. Persons who delay filing their returns until deadline day—April 15—will have a longer wait for that state tax refund, according to the Illinois Department of Revenue.

The department reports that 1.2 million refunds had been issued by the end of March—approximately 25 percent more than this time last year. Those refunds were valued at $5.9 million, for an average refund of $49.88.

Department records show that 5.6 million persons had filed their returns by the end of March, leaving an expected 1.2 million returns yet to be filed.

Taxpayers who file during the deluge of last-minute returns on April 15 will have to wait up to three months for that refund, the department said.

TAKES, FORGES CHECK

Eddie Abney, who also uses the name, Jimmy Williams, 2124 Delmar Ave., according to police, reported at 11:25 a.m. Saturday that a Supplemental Security Income (SSI) government check for $176 was stolen from his residence, with the thief forging Abney's signature and cashing the check.

Happy Group plans potluck

The Happy Group Senior Club met Thursday at the Granite City Township Center, 2060 Delmar Ave., and made plans for its covered dish dinner at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, April 15.

Elizabeth McGoy presided and led the group in reciting The Lord's Prayer and pledge to the flag.

A financial report was read by V. Scrivner, treasurer, and Marie Stanek discussed last month's club activities.

Fifty attended the meeting and spent the afternoon socially.

Wonder Woman isn't rushing

By ALAN L. GANSBERG

HOLLYWOOD — LYNDA CARTER is busy dividing her time between her singing career, which means Las Vegas and TV specials, and scouting dramatic properties for TV movies, but she insists she won't rush into any project. It has to have some value.

"I want to portray women as people opposed to exploitation," she remarked. "If you're pretty it seems a lot of the projects that come your way aren't strong roles. I'd like to educate, to do things that have something to say."

For example, Lynda and her husband-manager RON SAMUELS are considering doing a TV movie based on the life of RITA HAYWORTH, but if filmed Lynda insists it will explore what happens to actresses who become sex symbols. It won't just flaunt the juicy episodes in Hayworth's life.

"I'd even like to do another series, if it's the right one," she indicated. "I know I don't want to play a detective. The only trouble is sometimes you're at the mercy of the kind of scripts you get when you do a series. You don't have as much control."

Lynda also has no regrets about having done the "Wonder Woman" series, which is still playing around the world. For one thing, it's brought crowds in to see her concerts, although it's her voice that keeps them there.

"I haven't tried to cast off the 'Wonder Woman' image. I think the public sees me differently, but I'm not trying to dispel five years of my life."

Helping to guide her career at all times is, of course, Samuels, but Lynda insists the issue of the husband-manager has been "overblown."

"In our case he was managing before we got married," she noted. "And I was performing. He's still doing what he did before and so am I. It's not as if he was in some other profession and latched onto my career. He's had other clients. He's also a producer."

Despite their schedules, Lynda and Ron do spend "a lot of time together," she says. Their home base is 18 acres of land in Malibu Canyon.

It's hard to still be a kid but have your career at somewhat of a standstill. That's a problem for RICKY SCHRODER.

He was supposed to do a series for CBS, but a suitable concept couldn't be found. Now word is he'll show up on "Diff'rent Strokes" next season as a pal of GARY COLEMAN's character. If things work out he'll have an NBC show.

Actor RICHARD BENJAMIN has taken on a new side to his career directing — and he likes it so much there's a strong possibility he might forget about acting. His first film as a director, "My Favorite Year," looks good in its rough form. MEL BROOKS, who produced, wants Dick back again for another film.

It's no news that EDWARD ASNER and his wife had to be put under police protection due to his activities as president of the Screen Actors Guild. It's an unhappy situation, filled with irony.

Asner has had little nice to say about one of his predecessors in the job, RONALD REAGAN. Oddly enough, when Mr. Reagan was married to JANE WYMAN and president of the guild, he too, had to have round-the-clock lawmen at his door. Sometimes it just goes with the territory.

GEORGE HAMILTON wants to do a TV series. The actor who proved he could do comedy with "Love at First Bite" and "Zorro, the Gay Blade" has his heart set on a "larger-than-life sitcom." Whatever that is.

Do you know a Mitch Miller look-alike? Chances are if you do, he can get work playing the famous record producer turned TV host. Mitch will be a character in the upcoming TV movie based on the life of ROSEMARY CLOONEY.

Nothing is too sacred

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — Nothing is too sacred to spoof in the opinion of Jim Abrahams, producer who gave the airlines a good ribbing in "Airplane" and who is doing the same for lawmen with "Police Squad," a new, limited television series.

"Best of the West," a send up of electronic sagebrush sagas, that isn't faring too well with viewers, but Abrahams, though he isn't familiar with that show, doesn't think the sanctity of the subject matter is cause for soft ratings.

"The ability to do satire is in the eye of the beholder," he says. "If the satire isn't angry and is done out of affection, you can spoof anything."

"I think you could even spoof the Catholic Church; though I don't believe my partners and I are the ones who should do it."

His partners are David and Jerry Zucker who joined him while the Vietnam War was still in progress.

"And we didn't satirize that, either," Abraham continues, "because we didn't think there was anything funny about it."

"Though somebody else might be able to do it."

Leslie Nielsen who played a cop in a 1960s series called "The New Breed" is star of "Police Squad," having worked with the producers in "Airplane," and he, by calling in favors, was able to recruit friends to play dead bodies in the new show.

"He got Lorne Greene and Robert Goulet and Florence Henderson to be bodies," Abraham says.

Anyone who saw "Airplane" will clearly know that "Police Squad" comes from the same producers, he continues, because like the film "it's all spoof with just enough adventure to keep the plot together."

The show, first aired on March 4, is scheduled for six outings, but, if it does well, it may come back as a continuing series.

"What we try to do," says Abrahams, speaking for himself and his partners, "is write stuff we really like and hope it matches other people's sense of humor."

"The public's never had a chance to see 'McClain's Law,'" Eric Bercovici complains.

"It was scheduled against 'Dallas,' and that's the worst time period on television."

"Now that our show has

been moved, we hope it will find its audience."

Bercovici is producer of "McClain's Law," starring James Arness, and also of the new, 90-minute "Chicago Story."

The two are now paired by NBC as a Saturday night team, designed to give viewers who like the law an evening of pleasure.

"Chicago Story," more all-encompassing than "McClain's Law," deals with the doings of policemen, lawyers, and doctors; while the hour-long Arness show centers on a police department where Guess Who has the steadiest gun hand and coolest head on the force.

"Jim Arness watches 'McClain's Law' every week," Bercovici says with satisfaction, "which is something he never did with 'Gunsmoke.'"

"Because as McClain he comes nearer playing himself than he did as Matt Dillon."

The police series costs approximately $900,000 per episode with its star one of its most costly ingredients, but, Bercovici holds, Arness is worth every penny of whatever he gets because of his screen charisma.

"Women like him," the producer says without implying that men don't like him, too.

While the series hasn't challenged "Dallas" in the ratings, it draws heavy mail, almost all favorable, and, according to Bercovici, a surprising number of telegrams.

He thinks the episode which garnered the greatest mail haul was one in which Richard Jaeckel played a shop owner who shot and killed a holdup man.

It pointed out that killing, even when justified, is painful.

"People like the way we handled the gun control question," the producer says.

NBC, the network which

Star wars

By JACK MARTIN

HOLLYWOOD — It's just like the old days these days on the set of CBS' "Private Benjamin" series. And by the "old days" we mean those particular old days when certain leading ladies hated each other's guts.

Well, folks, in that grand old tradition, we bring you bulletins of a Joan Crawford-Bette Davis type battle royal raging between "Benjamin" co-stars, Lorna Patterson and Eileen Brennan.

The series, of course, is based on the super-successful movie of the same name which starred Goldie Hawn and Brennan. And while Patterson plays the Hawn role, she in no remote way approaches Hawn in style or talent.

But Brennan is another kettle of fish. And therein lies the problem twist the prima donnas.

Pity poor Patterson. How would you like stacking yourself up, week after week, against one of the funniest and most truly brilliant clowns in the business? So we can hardly begrudge little Lorna her case of the green-eyed monsties, particularly since she does play the title on the show and supposedly is the star.

And all this tension wasn't eased one little bit when Brennan won the Golden Globe. And Patterson wasn't even nominated. All of which must restore some sort of faith in those Mickey Mouse awards. Pia Zadora notwithstanding.

Joanna Crawford, who turned a deaf ear to Liz's personal plea that she pen "The Elizabeth Taylor Story" for ABC, will script the life of that other legend, Maria Callas, for the same network.

What won Crawford over was the casting of Faye Dunaway in the title role. Who could resist?

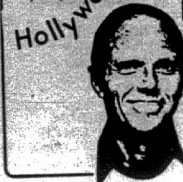

And speaking of legendary ladies, Kim Stanley joins the cast of "The Right Stuff" for the Ladd Co. and Philip Kaufman.

carried "McClain's Law" and "Chicago Story," has ordered 13 episodes of the latter every foot of which has been shot in Chicago.

According to Bercovici, approximately 5,000 Chicagoans were used as extras and 300 had speaking parts, among these persons who'd never acted before.

"Some of them were very good," he says. "A number of them became regulars, and one high school teacher who came in was so good that he came back to the show to do a guest shot."

Hollywood

Paramount is so hot for the Richard Gere starrer "An Officer and a Gentleman" that they're pushing the release back till fall (i.e., it's Oscar bait). Gere just winged in from the jungles of Brazil (leaving his Sylvia Martins behind on her papa's ranch) to loop the pic and make up his mind whether he'll go back to B-way, via a revival of "Three Penny Opera" or join Tatum O'Neal in New Zealand for Ivan Passar's "Prisoner." Decisions, decisions.

Victor Drai and Sonny Bono are trying to decide about opening a restaurant-club on the Sunset side of the Aware Inn.

There's a jest making the rounds about how there's gonna be a road company of "The Sound of Music" with Pia Z. as Maria and Allan Carr as the Von Trapp children.

Are Donny and Marie taking their act to China? That should set the cultural revolution back by about 150 years. More, if they drag along Bobby Vinton as their opening act.

Patti Davis fired the Morris office.

Dr. Joyce Brothers, the Pushy Galore of psychology, is said to be toying with the idea of running for the Senate. The UNITED STATES Senate. Frightening.
